Aluminum Company Exonerated

REPORT OF JUSTICE DEPARTMENT HOLDS FIRM IS BLAMELESS

Investigators Urge No Action Against Mellon Concern

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—A clean bill for fair and legal business health was given the Aluminum Company of America—controlled by Secretary of Treasury Mellon and his brother, B. P. Mellon—in a report of the department of justice, made public today.

The report, made after six months investigation by department agents, holds there is no foundation for the four anti-trust complaints of the Federal Trade Commission against the company. Its prices are not fixed in violation of the law; it is not hindering competitors from enlarging their business; it has not furnished defective material to consumers and is not responsible for delaying shipments of material, a copy of the report obtained by the United Press states.

"By reason of the lack of evidence upon which to base a citation in contempt against the company or its officers and agents for violations of the decree of 1912, it is recommended that no action be taken by the department in this matter," the report concludes.

The report will be the storm center of the movement instituted in the senate by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, conductor of the oil scandal investigations, for a complete inquiry into the company's activities.

On Monday when the senate receives the report, it will be officially submitted by Chairman Cummins of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

RIEDEL IN FAVOR OF PROPOSED CONTEST

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 19.—The state-wide peace declaration contest for high school students was heartily endorsed today by Vernon M. Riedel, state director of education.

He said he would recommend that high schools in the state give credits in English work to pupils participating in the contest, being organized by the Ohio Council of Churches. Churches throughout the state will aid in the contest. Three state prizes of $500, $300 and $200, bronze silver and gold medals will be awarded, accompanied by college scholarships providing for four, two, and one year, respectively.

"Our pupils often get too little opportunity for oral expression," Riedel declared on commenting on the valuable educational agency. Riedel hopes ministers and church leaders will avail themselves in "developing interest in the contest among the young people."

NEW YORK COMBATS EPIDEMIC OF GRIP

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—A pall of soft coal smoke continued to hang over this city today while health officials were considering emergency measures to combat a mild epidemic of colds and grip. Dr. Louis I. Harris, health commissioner said he might ask large department stores and theaters to change their closing hours so as to prevent over-crowded subways during the present "rush hours."

The weather bureau predicted that a fresh wind some time today would carry away the black fog that has bothered housewives for days. Washed clothing has been gray when taken from outdoor lines and curtains have been blackened.

"NEVER FORGED A CHECK BEFORE AND I NEVER WILL AGAIN" YOUNG GIRL SOBS

WOOSTER, Ohio, Feb. 19.—"I never forged a check before and I never will try it again," sobbed pretty 20 year old Irene Stout who formerly taught a Methodist Sunday School class in Lorain, in the city jail here today.

Irene found a blank check-book in the street yesterday. She had been looking for work and the checkbook, she said, gave her the idea of acquiring easy wealth.

The girl entered a mercantile establishment here, according to police, made a small purchase and tendered a $10 check signed by "Mrs. John Payne."

She was detained temporarily while, without her knowledge, a telephone inquiry went to the bank. There was no record of "Mrs. John Payne" and Miss Stout was arrested.

It was expected she will be reprimanded and admonished as to the pit-falls of crime and released.

COLD WAVE, SNOW STRIKE OHIO FROM WEST; RELIEF SOON

Chicago and Kansas City
Hit—Xenians Are Lucky

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 19.—Coming out of the northwest, a cold wave accompanied by heavy snow fall and cold winds, swooped down upon Ohio unexpectedly during the night.

More than three inches of snow blanketed central Ohio, necessitating the use of snow plows in sections where the wind drifted the flakes.

The snow which began falling after midnight, had abated this morning. No major casualties had been reported at an early hour, although scores of persons were injured in minor accidents, directly attributable to the cold and snow.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Relief from the heavy snow storm that whipped the Great Lakes region to last twenty-four hours was promised today by the United States weather bureau.

Temperatures will remain around the freezing point but skies will be clear and the wind will abate, the forecasters predicted.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 19.—Promised the aid of clear skies and a warm sun, Kansas and Missouri today started to dig out of the 9-inch snow fall of yesterday.

Two deaths were reported here as the result of the storm. A woman was frozen to death in Kansas. A 52 year old man died here from heart disease brought on by over-exertion.

Although Xenia and Greene Co., felt the sudden drop in temperature Thursday night, the heavy snow fall reported from other Ohio cities failed to materialize by inches here. The wintry snows amounted to only a feeble gesture with just enough snow on the streets Friday morning to let people know it had quit raining. An enthusiastic sun played havoc with the light precipitation during the day.

TRAINMAN KILLED IN FREIGHT WRECK

NEWTON JUNCTION, N. H., Feb. 19.—A Boston and Maine train en route from Boston to Portland, Me., side swiped a freight train here today.

One man was killed in the wreck which resulted, two were seriously injured and scores of passengers were shaken up.

Howard Spencer, of Portland, a brakeman on the freight train was the man killed.

THREE KILLED

VIENNA, Feb. 19.—(UP)—Anti-government demonstrations at Bucharest today were reported to have resulted in the killing of three persons and the injury of twenty policemen engaged in allaying the disturbance.

WOMAN ADMITS PLOT TO SLAY HUSBAND FOR LIFE INSURANCE

Says She Believed He Would Elope With Girl

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 19.—Fear that her husband Charles A. Lisenburg would run away with a 15-year-old girl led Mrs. Elden V. Lisenburg to enter a plot to kill him and collect $50,000 life insurance, she told police today. Mrs. Lisenburg says the plot was arranged by John Dishalvo, operator of a cabaret here. Dishalvo revealed the plot to police, according to Lincoln Toyne, chief of detectives. Dishalvo told police he had received a letter from Mrs. Lisenburg in which she asked him to kill her husband, for which Dishalvo was to receive $5,000. Toyne said he told Dishalvo to tell Mrs. Lisenburg that he would send a man to do the killing. O. V. King, detective, represented himself as an underworld character and entered into the arrangements for the "killing" according to police.

Mrs. Lisenburg is held for observation. This is the second alleged murder plot to be brought to light here in the last few days. Recently Mrs. Alberdine Frank and Carl B. Davis confessed in written statements to plotting to kill Mrs. Frank's husband, E. L. Frank. Mrs. Frank and Davis are held in the county jail charged with conspiracy to commit a felony.

Beauty Held in Fake Holdup Death Plot Aimed at Husband

Charges of conspiracy with intent to kill hang over Mrs. Albertina Frank, 24, and Carl B. Davis, who are held by Kansas City police. It is alleged that Mrs. Frank plotted with Davis to murder her husband in a fake hold-up. A slip-up caused the plot to be frustrated. Both have confessed, police aver. Mrs. Frank and Davis are shown.

VIOLET DARE WRITES NEW STORY FOR GAZETTE AND REPUBLICAN

"Love's Greatest Gift" Is Story of Girl Who Takes Life Into Her Own Hands—Presented
In Large Installments

Violet Dare, who in "The Bread and Butter Wife," has written one of the most popular stories ever published in this paper, is also author of "Love's Greatest Gift," serial to start immediately in The Evening Gazette and The Morning Republican.

Reception given "The Bread and Butter Wife" by readers brought conclusive proof that Miss Dare not only has an embracing insight into modern problems of heart and domestic life, but has the touch of an artist in preparing these delightfully entrancing plots into inter-est-holding stories.

That is the reason the management is pleased to announce her newest story, "Love's Greatest Gift," will be published in these papers, starting in The Evening Gazette Saturday and in The Morning Republican Monday. The present story concluded with today's installment, bringing to a dramatic end a yarn that has captivated the interest of hundreds of readers.

Miss Dare's new offering concerns the story of a girl who took life into her own hands. It is delightfully told in Miss Dare's simple and direct style, and deals again with a modern problem.

It is also pleasing to announce that more generous installments of the new story have been arranged for. Thus readers each day will be given a longer chapter of the story enabling them better to follow the plot to its enthralling climax.

TEACHER AWARDED $70,000 AS BLM

PORTSMOUTH, Feb. 16.—An appeal of the $70,000 verdict awarded Miss Lorraine Schlichter, 26, as balm in her breach of promise suit against John Taylor, wealthy Portsmouth automobile man, will be filed by Taylor's attorneys it was announced today.

Miss Schlichter, a school teacher had sued for $150,000, charging Taylor, whose wife died in 1923, failed to carry out a promise to marry her. Miss Schlichter's father died the same year and it was mutual mourning on the part of both that brought them together, according to testimony.

Miss Schlichter, in winning the award described a two year courtship. Taylor declared she attempted to "push him into marriage by proposal and persuasion." During the trial of the case, many letters containing endearing phrases and appellations were read. The jury deliberated one and a half hours.

COUNSEL FOR COUNTESS IN FINAL EFFORT TO HALT DEPORTATION

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Arthur Garfield Hayes, retained as counsel for Vera, Countess of Cathcart, by a group of New York women sympathizers, today is expected to go before the United States District Court here in a final effort to gain admission into this country for the countess.

Hayes, in applying for a writ of habeas corpus will argue that Countess Cathcart's admitted relations with the Earl of Craven, does not convict her of moral turpitude within the meaning of the immigration laws.

Officials at Ellis Island, where the noblewoman is held, say that if the writ is refused today she will be deported on the Cunard liner sailing at 1 a. m. tomorrow.

OHIO PROHIBITION DEPARTMENT MAY BE PROBED BY DONAHEY

Governor Questions
Propst About Use of
Women Decoys

COLUMBUS, Feb. 19.—Following revelations that the state prohibition department has been using women to entrap liquor law violators, State Dry Inspectors S. A. Propst, was summoned before Governor Donahey, today to explain a raid on Marshal Harry Nutt of Westerville, in which a woman known under several aliases and admittedly connected with the prohibition office, figured.

As Propst appeared before the governor, the executive indicated entire enforcement department may be investigated. No liquor was found during the Nutt raid and Propst, who with the woman, known also as Ruth Farrell, is said to have engineered the raid, was asked to explain upon what information the raid was based.

"Miss Farrell" admitted she was employed by the prohibition department and exhibited a $30 check marked "Prohibition Fund."

The governor's entry into the probe was expected to result in a general clean up in Westerville, where village manager L. G. Whitney charged "it has been an open secret" that the woman, known also as Ruth Farrell, is said to have engineered the raid, was asked to explain upon what information the raid was based.

Both Propst and Miss "Farrell" denied Nutt, whom Whitney holds responsible for alleged conditions in Westerville, was "framed."

LEGINSKA AGAIN FAILS TO APPEAR

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 19.—Ethel Leginska, temperamental pianist, who was to have shared in a concert here last night with Paul Kochanski, violinist, did another of her famous fade-aways and failed to appear.

The erratic pianist, whose absences have created more publicity than her appearances, however, this time is reported not to have completely disappeared.

Announcement was made that Miss Leginska "was suffering from a nervous breakdown and was under the care of a physician."

WHITE HOUSE IS QUIET WHILE CHIEF ILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The White House is a quiet place at best and now that President Coolidge is ill, 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, has become a deserted manse.

Guards and secret service men in the executive offices sit around and combat boredom as best they may, newspaper men play chess and swap yarns while the cameramen have deserted the front steps for more lucrative fields.

Usually a dozen distinguished callers break the monotony of the day or something provides amusement for the attaches, but now even the cranks seem to avoid the White House and the slender number of visitors to inspect the east room are the only strangers to enter the executive doors.

When the president retires to the White House proper he is completely shut off from the world. News of his condition during his present illness with a heavy cold, is transmitted through his secretary, Everett Sanders and what information trickles through this source is quite meager.

"I know for a positive fact, from the best authority in London, that Countess Cathcart was warned before she sailed that she would not be admitted into the United States. This act was planned to bring all her humiliation possible to Lord Craven and myself, but I've been having a great laugh."

Rises From Slums to Literary Fame

Miss Anzia Yezierska, author of novels about people of the New York slums, came from Russia in the steerage, and lived for years in the Ghetto. It was here her first book, "Hungry Hearts," was written.

ESTABLISHMENT OF PROPOSED AIR MAIL LINE AUTHORIZED

Route Will Pass Through
Dayton To Cincinnati

AKRON, Ohio, Feb. 19.—The Cleveland, Akron, Columbus, Dayton and Cincinnati direct air mail route was one step nearer today after Postmaster General New authorized the establishment of such a line to connect with the transcontinental air line at Cleveland. New conditioned his backing, however, upon the support of the citizens in the respective cities to be served.

The only thing hindering the plan from becoming a reality is the finding of a private company to carry the mail between the five cities.

Night service would be established over the route with Columbus, Akron, Dayton and Cincinnati as regular stops under the tentative plan.

It was reported that the Cincinnati postal authorities would confer with representatives of the Ford Flying interests for planes to carry the mail. No date has been set for the inauguration of the service.

How soon contracts are awarded, it is said, rests upon the support that the interested cities show in the project.

PRESIDENT BETTER SECRETARY STATES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(UP)—Although his cold is better, President Coolidge cancelled his cabinet meeting scheduled for this morning, remaining in bed on the advice of his physician, Major James F. Coupal.

Mr. Coolidge intends to get up this afternoon, however, to attend the bi-weekly press conference at 4 o'clock.

The President's illness is just a bad cold, his secretary Everett Sanders said, after a ten minute visit at the White House. The President appears improved, Sanders said, denying he has influenza. Sanders took the President a huge stack of letters which he signed.

Mr. Coolidge's pulse and temperature are normal, Sanders said.

DECLARE DIVIDEND

FINDLAY, O., Feb. 19.—Directors of the Ohio Oil Company declared the regular dividend of fifty cents per share and an extra dividend of twenty-five cents at their quarterly meeting here today.

HOT GINGER TEA SURE CURE FOR COLDS COL. COOLIDGE PRESCRIBES FOR SON

PLYMOUTH, Vt., Feb. 19 (UP).—By drinking hot ginger tea before retiring each night, President Coolidge could cure his cold in no time, according to his father, Col. John C. Coolidge.

This old fashioned New England remedy which the Colonel prescribes, is about the most popular "sure cure" for colds among residents of snow-bound Plymouth.

Cider and red pepper is another almost unbeatable combination as a cold antidote, according to Colonel Coolidge.

The President's father, who since December 27, has been confined to bed with paralysis affecting both legs, has not been officially notified from the White House of his son's indisposition. However, the president has talked with his father two or three times a week since a telephone recently was installed in the Coolidge homestead and the Colonel expects to hear from his son within a few days.

RIFLE USER BLAMED FOR TWO DEATHS AND WOUNDING ANOTHER

Physician Is Latest Victim—Women of City
Alarmed

(By United Press)
OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 19.—Their nerves on edge, women here today kept police jumping from one end of the city to the other in quest of the "maniac sniper" who has killed two persons, wounded another and shot a half a dozen others this week.

Fifty calls were investigated by police. All were found to be false alarms.

One woman declared she heard two shots in an apartment next to her's but investigation declared that the lady next door, fearful of showing a light, had fallen over the bed, making a loud noise.

One hundred armed citizens aide police, patrolling the section of the city where the maniac has been working.

The murder of Dr. A. D. Searies, prominent physician, found dead in his locked office yesterday remained unsolved today. His murderer left a .22 calibre shell of a kind used only on target ranges and which will kill at a distance of 200 yards, as the only clue. It was the same kind of a shell that has been found in each instance where persons have been shot at.

An autopsy showed that the bullet that killed Dr. Searies entered the skull behind the left ear. This is the same kind of wound that killed William McDevitt Sunday night.

ALLEGED BANDITS CAUGHT BY FARMERS

BELLEFONTAINE, O., Feb. 19.—While authorities searched for a fourth man who leaped into a stolen automobile and escaped, Charles St. Claire, 25; Jack Malone, 27 and Eddie Parker, 24, all of Toledo, were in the county jail here today, suspected of burglarizing a hardware store at DeGraff Wednesday night.

The suspects were captured by posses of farmers and deputies from Hardin and Logan Counties, near Yelverton, Hardin County, yesterday, after one of their number, Parker had been shot through the ear.

Guns and ammunition, believed stolen from the DeGraff store, were found in the tonneau of the men's automobile which they abandoned near Yelverton after it skidded and turned over. Farmers who noticed the weapons called authorities, the capture following.

WILL ARBITRATE SALARY DEMANDS

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Fear of serious wage difficulties between leading railroads of the west and their conductors and trainmen were dispelled today by the calling of an arbitration conference which is expected to reach a compromise.

Operating officials of fifty class "A" railroads in the territory west of Chicago, agreed to the arbitration conference after heads of the conductors and trainmen's unions had served notice that some agreement must be reached by March 2. Wage increases totaling approximately $500,000,000 annually have been asked by the unions.

DR. PATTERSON TALKS TO BUSINESS WOMEN'S CLUB

Beautiful scenes of his travels over the European continent last summer were shown members of the Xenia Business and Professional Women's Club by Dr. A. M. Patterson, this city, at the monthly club meeting, Knights of Pythias Hall.

Dr. Patterson attended international chemical sessions in Europe and he and Mrs. Patterson visited many points of interest during the sojourn of several weeks. Pictures were taken with the aid of a stereoscopic lantern and were highly appreciated by the club.

The talk and the picture show followed dinner and the usual business meeting. The meeting was one of the largest during the year, the membership being augmented by the Travel Club members.

FRIENDS CHURCH DINNER THURSDAY

One hundred people attended the annual congregational dinner at Friends Church, Thursday evening. Members of the church brought covered dishes and a variety of good things was served in abundance.

"All Church Program" for the coming year was outlined by the pastor, the Rev. S. R. Burkett, after dinner. Business meeting was followed by an informal social time.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Playmates of little Miss Virginia Turnbull shared in her celebration of her seventh birthday at her home on N. King St. Thursday afternoon. A jolly time was enjoyed by Virginia's guests and the festivities closed with the serving of ice cream, cake and candy. Favors of dainty canyons, baskets and tokens of Washington's birthday were given.

Junior Music Lovers' Club will be entertained by Miss Eileen Sayre, N. King St., Saturday afternoon. An election of officers will be held and a special program presented.

Mrs. V. F. Brown's class, Trinity M. E. Church, will meet at the home of Mrs. George Eikerle, East Main St., Monday evening, February 22.

Mrs. Mary Vetter, Spring Valley, who is spending the winter with her granddaughter, Mrs. Grace Burrows, Detroit, Mich., fell Sunday and broke her hip, according to word received by Spring Valley friends. Mrs. Vetter is confined in a Detroit hospital as a result of the accident.

County School Superintendent H. C. Aultman and Mrs. Aultman, are leaving Saturday afternoon for Washington, D. C., where Superintendent Aultman will attend the National Superintendents' Convention. They will spend the larger part of next week in Washington, as the guests of Mrs. Aultman's uncle, Mr. J. S. Montgomery, chaplain in the House of Representatives. Rural education will be one of the important topics to come up at the superintendents' meeting.

Regular meeting of the children's missionary society Trinity M. E. Church or the "Buffalo roundup" has been postponed until a later date.

The Rev. William H. Tilford will preach at the O. S. and S. O. Home services Sunday morning. He will dramatize the events of "David and Goliath" for the children. Among other things the "Wallboard Giant" will be set up to help impress the lessons of the story.

King's Heralds and Home Guards of the First M. E. Church will meet in the basement of the church Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Any Sunday schools having left-over papers or papers and Bibles they wish to distribute, are asked to leave them at either the Social Service League or 123 N. Monroe St.

The Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Furstenberger attended Tuesday and Thursday's sessions of the Board of Administration, United Brethren Church of America, in Dayton.

Mrs. William Hester, London, O., is visiting her daughter, Miss Dorothy Hester, until Saturday, coming to attend the performance of "The Lady in Blue" in which Miss Hester appeared.

PATRIOTIC PROGRAM AT ST. BRIGID'S THURSDAY

Parochial grade school pupils entertained the St. Brigid High School student body and faculty at the school with a combined Lincoln and Washington program Thursday afternoon.

The entertainment proved one of the most enjoyable affairs of the year and pupils acquitted themselves creditably in songs and short recitations. Program follows:

First and second grades—Song: "George Washington"; Recitation: "Washington"; John Downes and Melvin Downey.

Third and fourth grades—Song: "America" and recitation. "Our First President."

Fifth and sixth grades—Song: "Washington's Birthday."

Seventh and eighth grades—Recitations: "The Man Who Knew Lincoln," Ellen McCurran; "Was Lincoln a King?" Helen Downes; Song: "Our Country and Schools Forever."

D. A. R. AND MUSIC CLUB JOINT MEETING

Catherine Greene Chapter, D. A. R., will celebrate the birthday of George Washington with a musicale at the home of Mrs. S. M. McKay, W. Church St., Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The program, in charge of Mrs. W. H. McGervey, will be given in costume by members of the Xenia Woman's Musical Club and will be one of unusual interest.

Mrs. Laura Alexander, Mrs. J. A. McCormick and Mrs. H. A. Hoffman, will assist Mrs. McKay during the afternoon.

First M. E. Church choir will meet at the home of Miss Helen Jones, N. Detroit St., Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. Donald Currie will spend the week end at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, where he will attend the initiation of his fraternity, Beta Theta Phi.

PAGE MACK SAUER! CIDER MAY BE KEPT SWEET UNTIL JUNE

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 19.—Sweet cider in June, with its natural flavor and aroma, may soon be available at soda fountains, if investigations now under way at Ohio State University are successful.

It has been possible to preserve cider by pasteurization, but not without a loss in flavor, according to L. M. Montgomery, professor of horticulture at the state university.

Large companies have also been able to preserve cider effectively using it three weeks for consumption.

SUFFERED WITH CONSTIPATION 25 YEARS

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brought relief in 3 weeks!

Read this remarkable testimonial to the power of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN over constipation:

"I prize your ALL-BRAN. I have been using it three weeks for constipation. I had this trouble for 25 years and had tried everything, but could never get any relief—until I used your bran. I can truthfully say that I am entirely cured and feel like a new man."

Yours truly,

THOMAS A. HENLEY, JR.

Blotchy skin, eruptions, spots before the eyes, headaches—these all tell of the ravaging inroads of constipation. Don't let this dire disease send its poisons through your body. Check it now and save your health and happiness!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation permanently if used regularly or money refunded. Eat two tablespoons daily—in chronic cases, every meal.

Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek, Michigan. Kellogg's is 100 percent bran. Ready to eat. Delicious with fruit or cream—also in cooking. Served in all restaurants. Sold by all grocers.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

by freezing the cider repeatedly in it is reduced to a thick syrup which may be placed in cold storage.

Investigations now under way at the university under direction of Prof. Montgomery aim to see if cider cannot similarly be concentrated by heat under a vacuum without loss in flavor.

TEL. 91-R

Friends have received word of the death of J. W. Gray, Springfield, which occurred suddenly Tuesday night at his residence on York St., following his return home from church.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at St. John's Baptist Church, Springfield. He was a member of the Ohio State Baptist Young People's executive board.

Mrs. J. T. Garvin of E. Market St. is the guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Garvin of Cleveland.

Mrs. George Andrew of E. Main

St. is confined indoors suffering with grip.

The Effie Carter W. C. T. U. met Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Mary E. Harris, E. Market St., the occasion being memorial anniversary of Mrs. Frances Willard. The program, prepared by the committee, was as follows: Song, "America"; Scripture Lesson, Mrs. Frances Anderson, president of the union; prayer, Mrs. Elizabeth Bowen, superintendent of flower mission; song, "Rescue the Perishing." Miss S. J. Payne then gave a brief history of the union in connection with a eulogy of the life of this wonderful woman. Mrs. Dunkel, secretary of the Greene County W. C. T. KEEPS HER NAME CLEAN.

ONE thousand armed men stood about in the streets of Lexington, Ky., the other day. They had ugly looking tanks with them, field pieces, three dozen machine guns. The city was on a war footing.

All of this was done to protect the life of one poor negro—an addled gentleman by the name of Harris who had slain three people and who, it was feared, would surely be torn limb from limb by an angry mob if he ever appeared outside his prison cell.

But Harris had to be tried, and the trial had to be held at Lexington. So the shivering colored man was whisked to the courtroom from the Frankfort prison, fifty miles away, with a fair-sized army standing about with loaded guns, to see to it that he was not harmed.

The whole thing cost the state of Kentucky $20,000. That seems like a rather high price, particularly in view of the following: Harris, fifteen minutes after he had entered the courtroom, was sentenced to be hanged on March 5.

The state spent $20,000 to save his life only to order his life forfeited one month later.

Was the expenditure justified—or was it endless waste? Why should officials go to such pains to safeguard the very man they will kill later?

In one way it wasn't worth it. Five weeks from now Harris will be dead anyway. Viewed merely from the angle of the value of Harris' life to the community, it does seem as though $20,000 were a high price to pay for an extra month.

But there is another angle to it.

Kentucky wasn't really protecting the poor negro that afternoon at Lexington. Kentucky was protecting herself—protecting her good name, her reputation for law-abiding decency and levelheadedness.

For while it doesn't matter greatly to anyone whether Harris is killed now or a month from now, it does matter greatly that Kentucky prove her ability to uphold the orderly processes of law, no matter what the occasion. If the state and city officials had stood idly by and let Harris be lynched it would have been a shameful thing—shameful for the nation most shameful for Kentucky.

Kentucky met the challenge well. If it had cost three times $20,000 to save Harris from the mob, it still would have been worth it. For Kentucky has proved that, cost what it may, orderly processes of law will be preserved and black citizens as well as white will be protected.

Kentucky defended her reputation and defended it well. It met a trying situation with intelligence.

DOCTORS.

STATISTICS recently released in the Journal of the American Medical Association show that the death rate among doctors is far higher than among other people. The death rate for the country as a whole is 11.9; for the doctors, 17.22.

It would be interesting to know how much of this excess is due to the relatively high mortality rate among country physicians. The willingness of these men to risk their lives in winter storms, midnight gales, spring rains and other dangerous conditions has been proverbial. They have never received half praise enough.

BAD SPORTS?

THE London Daily Sketch prints an interview with a prominent British explorer who complains that we Americans, in kicking about Britain's rubber monopoly, are proving ourselves poor sportsmen.

To bear out his claim, he points out that America has made England pay hundreds of millions for wheat, cotton, copper and nickel; that we practically have a shipping monopoly in Central America; that our motor cars are crowding out British makes even in the British colonies, that we are rapidly ousting British trade in Brazil and Argentina. And yet, he says, when England experiences a trade revival and begins to profit by her rubber industry, we cry aloud to heaven that we are abused.

There's something in his remarks, at that. We are paying higher prices for our rubber; but wouldn't it be just as well to take it with good grace and not yell like a lot of spoiled children?

FEWER CITIES.

CRIPPLES are a relative rarity in the United States, compared with the rest of the world. There are only 115,000 physically blind persons in America. The legless are seldom seen and a man having one member missing is a curiosity. The same is true of the deformed. But American visitors abroad return with stories of the hordes of blind, crippled and deformed met with everywhere.

One of the principal reasons for the greater numbers of the physically handicapped abroad is war. Few countries in Europe and Asia have not participated in more than one war within the time of the living generations.

Another cause for the comparative scarcity of deformity and of cripples in this country is the higher standard of sanitation. Skilled medical service for all and rapid advances in surgery are preventing and curing the disease which leave their victims maimed. Many persons are made blind or otherwise crippled through industrial occupations, but this, too, has been reduced to a minimum in the United States by the introduction of safeguards in all factories.

In the great numbers of maimed and disfigured abroad there is a lesson for this country and in every cripple at home there is a lesson in safety first of every man, woman and child in America.

COOKING BEETS, TURNIPS AND SPINACH

Several weeks ago I spoke about the proper cooking of cabbage, cauliflower and brussels sprouts. Today I want to tell my Bride Readers how to cook beets, turnips and spinach correctly.

Spinach: Clean it well, discarding roots and all imperfect leaves, and putting the vegetable through several waters. If it is at all wilted, let it stand in clear cold water till it becomes fresh and crisp. Then drain it from this water. Put it in boiling salted water (allowing three quarts of water and one tablespoon of salt to one-half peck of spinach). Let it boil ten minutes, drawing the cover of the saucepan a little to one side the minute it begins to boil. This is merely launching it, to serve chopped and cooked in a cream sauce. If, however, you wish to serve it in butter, use the following method of cooking:

Spinach Cooked Without Water: Spinach when washed holds enough water for cooking. Put it into a large pot over the fire; cover and cook ten minutes. Press down and turn the spinach over several times during this cooking and, at the end of the ten minutes, place it in a chopping bowl and mince it rather fine. Return it to the pan and add seasonings to suit individual taste (about one teaspoonful of salt to one-half peck of spinach). Also add at least two one-half pecks of spinach. Simmer ten minutes and serve. This is a particularly good way of cooking the vegetable when it is very young and tender.

Turnips: The flat, white summer turnip, when sliced, will cook in 30 minutes and if cooked beyond this period of time, it will begin to grow dark in color and strong in flavor. The winter turnips, however, require from 45 to 60 minutes. Peel and slice them. Drop the slices into a pan containing enough boiling water to cover. Cook till tender, then drain. Put them back into the pan and, with a wooden potato-masher, mash them thoroughly. Season with salt to suit individual taste and add a teaspoon or two of butter. (Pepper if liked.) Serve at once.

COCO COD

PURE COD LIVER OIL

Give sickly children a chance

If your children are thin, underweight, backward in school, give them a chance. Build them up with COCO COD. It is nature's greatest aid to sound minds in sound bodies.

COCO COD is all nourishment—just pure cod liver oil, with the health-giving vitamins from eggs, yeast, lettuce and spinach. Tastes like chocolate, so children like to take it.

COCO COD works wonders in people who are weak from any cause. The convalescent, the anemic, the over-worked and run-down, all find that COCO COD gives them new lease on life. Recommended by physicians everywhere. Ask your doctor. All drug-gists. Begin TODAY—take COCO COD for health!

SUNSHINE'S RIVAL FOR HEALTH

With one brave yell, to shout "farewell."
And "write us when you can!"

The rich may take their pleasure trips
The poor at home must stay.
They sigh in vain, the ship or train
Takes none of them away.
But at the gate is good Aunt Kate
Who journeys south tonight,
We kiss and cry, and say "good-bye"
And "don't forget to write!"

Now Uncle Al sets out today
Around the world to roam
And here I stand and wave my hand,
Compelled to stay at home.
He'll feel the salt breeze on his face
He'll sail the seven seas.
"Goodbye," I'll shout, and turn about
A brother to the trees.

And yet who knows the day may come
When travel shall be mine,
I too may ride, upon the tide,
When I am fifty-nine.
And then when I am outward bound
May those who shout "goodbye,"
Turn back to shore and work once more
Without too great a sigh.

Greene County History

CHIEF TECUMSEH

Tecumseh, who gained the distinction of being the greatest Indian in the history of that now almost extinct race, was born near Old Chillicothe in Greene County, in 1770.

Authorities differ regarding his place of birth, many maintaining he was born not far from Old Chillicothe in his mother's cabin along Mad River. It is known, however, the village was small and the main Shawnee town was situated at old Chillicothe.

Tecumseh was a full-blooded Shawnee, one of twins, and since twins are a rarity among the Indian race, he was famous even in his early youth, his birth carrying a certain religious significance. The noted red man devoted his life to the expulsion of the white man from the hunting grounds of his people. He believed himself justified since his father, a Shawnee chieftain, had fallen from the bullets of the whites at the battle of Point Pleasant in 1774; his eldest brother lost his life in an attack on a southern post, and another was killed at the battle of Fallen Timbers in 1794. His mother's home was later destroyed by the invaders and the lands of his people were taken from them by the treaty of Greenville.

As old Chillicothe, now Old Town, was an important village of the Shawnees, Tecumseh spent much of his time within the borders of what later became Greene County. He also became well acquainted with some of the early settlers of the county.

Beets: Wash carefully so as not to break the skin. Put into a saucepan and cover with boiling water. Boil gently till tender. Young beets cook in one hour. As they grow older, the cooking period must be lengthened. In winter often two hours are required to soften them. When done, rub off the skins, cut in thin slices, and serve with butter and salt.

FLOWERS IN ALASKA

A few weeks ago I read an article in one of the nearby papers, which said roses were blooming in Wrangell, Alaska. Even though I know something of Alaska I rather doubted the statement, and sent the clipping to my sister, Mrs. Herbst of Ketchikan, Alaska. Here is her answer:

"Yes the item of the roses in bloom is true. A daughter of the man who has them lives here, (Ketchikan), but my garden primroses are in bloom, and across the street is a pink hollyhock almost out. Sunday, January 21, we thought our winter had come, but Monday evening came another southeaster, and more rain. Again 'tis like spring and the groundhog did not see his shadow, so we may not have any winter."

In another place in her letter she writes, "This is a wonderful morning. Daylight began to break at 6:30, then the color came in the south, to the west the moon still shone, and the water like glass reflecting the mountains, beauty strongly emphasized, is the only way to express it."

THRIFT

I cannot imagine anyone as a success who has not learned at least to prepare for the rainy day. But thrift can be overdone. A friend of mine—or rather an acquaintance—died recently leaving nearly half a million dollars as an estate. Those who knew him best were greatly surprised. He lived on little. He spent nothing on his friends. In fact, he often borrowed from them. And then he died and left a bad memory and a big estate.

More people should go into honest debt. And what I mean by this is a debt that you intend and determine to pay. Strictly a business proposition.

Save for the rainy day—and you can enjoy the fruits of your labor and bear a real measure of pleasure.

It is good sense to go into debt to pay for your home or for a good real estate holding. Real estate is the best investment on the earth—for it is the earth itself.

But the same good sense should be used in selecting the ground you buy as in buying anything else. Too many think that any real estate is a good buy. Much of it is a bad buy if it cannot be made to earn.

Money should be sent out to work in the same way as you go out to work. As life shortens every man and woman should think out ways of conserving their energies and thus fortify their later years so that they may achieve in greater proportion than when they were all youth and ginger.

Save, but not niggardly. Invest but not unthinkingly.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

SALLY and TOM PORTER have separated, quarreling because Sally has insisted on returning to her work as a public stenographer after their marriage. The fact that she did so in order to pay their bills when he lost his job makes no difference to Tom.

SALLY finds other men ready to help her forget Tom, but she cannot put him out of her heart. At last she realizes that her life will always be incomplete without him, and when a letter comes from his sister, EMILY, saying that Tom is devoting himself to another girl, Sally decides to make one more effort to straighten out the tangle between them.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT
XLVIII—HAPPILY EVER AFTER

AS Tom shut the front door behind him Sally rushed out from behind the screen where she had been hiding.

"Oh, Emily, he does care for me still, doesn't he?" she cried.

"Of course he does," Emily answered. "He's more in love with you than ever. He's just stubborn—he's been that way ever since he was a youngster. I'm afraid you'll have to go more than half way, Sally, if you want him back."

"Oh, I'd gladly go all the way on my hands and knees," Sally answered, catching up her hat and coat. "I'd do anything to make Tom realize that I care as much for him as he does for me!"

But the problem of how to make him realize it was what worried her. She went back to the little apartment that he and she had shared, and spent the evening trying to plan. At last she hit upon what seemed to her to be the right scheme.

The next day she telephoned the agent for the building, through whom Tom had communicated with her.

"Please tell Mr. Porter that I now give up the apartment just now; it will be most inconvenient for me to do so," she told him. "When I took it on a sub-lease from Mrs. Jenkins I understood that I was to have it for several months, and I can't possibly move now."

The agent argued with her for some time, and finally told her that she'd have to see Mr. Porter himself.

"Very well—he can see me here late this afternoon," she replied.

When Tom walked into her little trap and came, she wondered. She had not given her name as Mrs. Porter when she took the apartment, but had used her maiden name, Lee; Tom might be struck by the similarity, but she was sure that he would not suspect that she was "Mrs. Lee."

She was so nervous that afternoon that she could do nothing but walk about, straightening pictures and furniture, dusting chairs and tables that had been dusted until they shone.

Three o'clock—half past three—four. Well, she'd said "late in the afternoon," of course. Half past four—quarter of five. What if he didn't come at all?

It was five minutes after five when he doorknocked. Sally ran down the hall to answer it. Her knees trembled; she laid one hand on the doorknob and then drew it back. What would Tom say? At last she opened the door—and feeling that it couldn't be true that he was there, but that she had stepped into a dream.

"Sally! What are you doing here?" he exclaimed.

"Living here, and waiting for you to come," she answered, taking his hand and drawing him into the hall. "Oh, Tom, haven't we misunderstood each other long enough?"

"Why, I—you mean—"

"I mean that I saw where I was wrong, and I'm sorry."

"You weren't wrong—I was!"

"I don't care which of us was wrong," she said, as his arms held her tight. "We're not going to be wrong the same way again. Let's begin all over again, Tom, right here where we were happy for a little while, and make things turn out the way they should. I'm never going to leave home again, except to go to market! You were right about not wanting me to work after we were married—"

"It was darned plucky of you to do it, when I didn't have a job," he interrupted. "I don't know what we have done if you hadn't gone back to work then. But now—oh, Sally, I can't give you much, but I want to take care of you, and have you stay here and make a home for me."

"Now I am going to help you."

us both, if you will."

"We seem to want the same thing," she told him, with a soft little laugh. "Isn't that lucky?"

Later she got dinner, a dinner she had planned that morning, in which she had included everything that Tom liked best. She had even attempted a lemon cream pie, which, though it was not quite what it might have been, Tom pronounced the best he had ever eaten.

"And now you can sit and smoke your pipe while I clean up," she told him when dinner was over.

"Not on your life!" he exclaimed, gathering up a pile of plates and following her to the kitchen. "Now I'm going to help you. This is going to be a fifty-fifty marriage, child, and don't you forget it."

"It's going to be a bread-and-butter marriage, Tom," she answered, and "I'm going to stop trying to earn the sugar to put on the bread."

"That's all right, Tom, sweetheart," he retorted. "With you to help me, I'll make money enough to give us both jam."

And when they settled down together later, to make plans and go back over the time when they had been so much apart and had wanted each other so much, Sally told herself that nobody else had ever been so happy as she was.

McCormick, Walter McCormick, John Herbert Brown, Agnes Garrett Williams, Helen Orr Brown, Jean G. Brown and Gertrude Lynde.

John C. Brown died May 24, 1924, and in item 1 of his will bequeathed a life estate in his personal property and real estate to his widow, Harriet R. Brown, who died January 29, 1925, according to the petition.

Plaintiffs claim that in item 2 of the will, $20,000 was bequeathed to Katherine Hazlett and that there is sufficient personality to pay the legacy in full.

Decedent provided in item 3 of the will that after the death of his widow, the residue of the estate should go to his nieces and nephews and her nieces and nephews, according to the petition.

Plaintiffs and defendants are heirs to the property, petition are filed to the plaintiffs.

SAVINGS COMPANY SUES

The Peoples Building and Savings Co. is plaintiff in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court against Cliff Lemons and Grace Lemons for $24,730.74, alleged due on a loan. Foreclosure of mortgaged property is sought. C. W. Whitmer is attorney for the plaintiff.

Fred and Dorothy Robinson, and the American Loan and Realty Co. are named defendants in a suit for $500 filed by the Peoples Building and Savings Co. That amount is due from the first two named defendants on a loan, secured by mortgage, plaintiff averts. The loan and realty concern is asked to set up a mortgage lien it claims to hold on the property. Attorney C. W. Whitmer represents the plaintiff.

MAN INJURED WHEN TRAMPLED BY HORSE

James Osborn, 35, tenant on the Jesse Hawkins farm, one mile east of Spring Valley, received three broken ribs and his face was badly lacerated when he was knocked down and trampled by a horse, Thursday night near Spring Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Osborn and two children were returning home from Spring Valley between 8 and 9 o'clock in a closed storm buggy. The horse bit broke and when Mr. Osborn attempted to placate the animal he was knocked down and trampled by the horse.

The horse dragged the buggy, occupied by Mrs. Osborn and the children to the Osborn home a mile away. Occupants of the buggy were not injured. Mr. Osborn was removed to his home and is thought to be in a serious condition.

AWARD CONTRACT FOR EXCAVATION

Contract for the excavation for three buildings at new Wright Field was awarded Thursday by Captain E. M. George, constructing quartermaster, to J. I. Geiger, Dayton contractor, on his bid of $15,400.

and laboratory buildings, for which the government has allowed $78,000 will be received March 22.

POSTOFFICE WILL BE CLOSED MONDAY

Monday, Washington's birthday, will be observed as a holiday at the Xenia Postoffice, it is announced by Postmaster C. S. Frazer.

No deliveries will be made by city or rural carriers but morning and evening collections will be made as usual, it is said. The lobby will remain open all day for accommodation of box holders.

FUNERAL HELD

Funeral services for Mrs. Frances Walthal, 70, who died Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock at her residence in Jamestown, were held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at her home. Interment was made in Jamestown Cemetery.

TRUTH STRANGER THAN FICTION

A New York legislator has offered a bill making hypocrisy a crime and labelling as hypocrites "persons who solicit and collect funds for the purpose of promoting measures restraining the exercise of personal liberty."

The three major vices of Gilbert Chesterton, well-known English author are biting his grandmother, infatuation for Russian widows and arguing, he confesses in his latest book.

Complaining that his wife took his cork leg with her when she left him a Bridgeport, Conn., high school teacher is suing for divorce.

A Chicago surgeon, operating on a patient for appendicitis, found the man had no such organ. The patient died.

A Marion, O., surgeon, in a death-bed request, specified that there be no 'humbug' in his funeral. He asked to be cremated and his ashes scattered on the graves of his parents. He forbade religious ceremony.

Fine fighting by means of a tuning fork which is supposed to put out flames when agitated, is a proposal of a New York man.

New Plane Promises 18-Hour U. S. to London Service

A company is being organized in New York to operate an 18-hour transatlantic passenger service with planes of a type developed by Dr. Armin De Muth, noted German aero designer. Photo shows how the machine will appear in flight. A model of the De Muth plane passed tests of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The plans for the transoceanic air liners call for 800-h. p. motors, and compartments in the cabin in the 147-foot body for 50 passengers and eight fliers. Dr. De Muth believes he has devised a way to make the craft unsinkable.

Where National Park Is Proposed for East

WILLIAM C. GREGG

Central Press Photos

North Carolina and Tennessee are seeking $1,000,000 to purchase the Great Smoky range of mountains and present them to the government as a national park, providing easterners with a great playground similar to the many in the west. Photo shows a section of the range, the location of which is indicated in the map. Also shown advocates of the Great Smoky park, Wm. C. Gregg, national park commissioner and Mark Squires, chairman of the park commission.

Daring Explorer Opens New Wilderness to Whites

George M. Dyott, noted English explorer and author, is back from a perilous trip through Ecuador and Brazil across South America, on which he visited regions never before seen by a white man. At bottom is the great volcano of Sangai, photographed for the first time. At top is one of the swift, deadly streams with which he had to continually battle. As the photo was taken, one of his boats was being smashed. Also shown is one of the savages who inhabit the wilderness opened by Dyott.

Diagnoses Crime Wave as He Waits for Death on Canadian Scaffold

Henry F. Meyers

"Children are taught too much idealism, and not enough realism." This is the diagnosis of the crime wave made by Si Sowash, alias Henry F. Meyers, as he waited death on the scaffold at Vancouver, B. C., on a murder charge. When he walked to the noose, he left behind a remarkable essay on crime and its causes.

Most Beautiful U. S. Twins?

Marie (left) and Marguerite Martel, California girls, whose friends claim for them the title of "America's most beautiful twins," say it's fine to be so much alike, but that they'd rather have distinct personalities. They've just been graduated from a ballet school and plan not to marry till they've won fame as dancers.

Society Beauty Dramatic Discovery

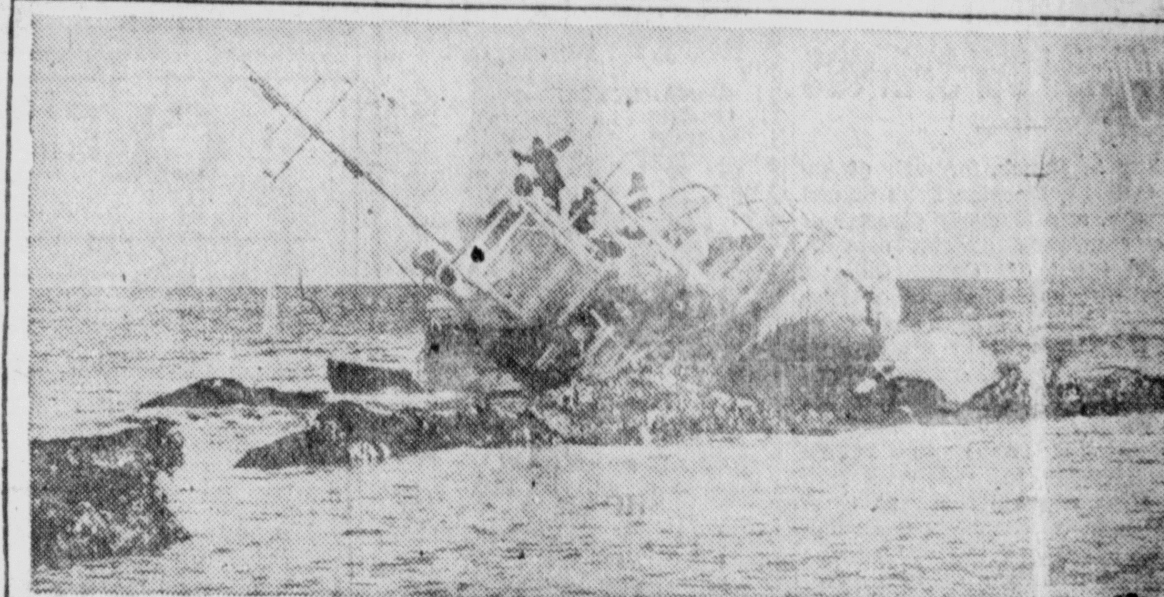

Tired of society, Elinor Patterson, Chicago beauty, sought a career on the stage. Despite her inexperience, she was picked for the important part of the Nun in the Chicago presentation of the spectacle, "The Miracle." Now a great future is predicted for her as an actress.

Miners' Tots Happy as War Ends, But Still Suffer

Children in the anthracite mining districts of Pennsylvania are happy again, with the 164-day strike over, as the upper photo shows; but there continues to be distress in many of their homes, with food, fuel and clothing short. On eve of settlement, when two truck loads of coal ventured on streets of Throop, Pa., strikers overturned them and their desperate wives and children gathered in the fuel for home use, as lower photo shows.

Walks Barefoot Mile in Blizzard to Save Six

A tale of heroism that is an epic of the sea is being written as six coast guardsmen from a station on Narragansett Bay, Mass., recover from harrowing experiences from which they were saved, when near death, by the action of one of their comrades, who walked barefooted and scantily clad for a mile in a blizzard to bring them aid. Their craft had been wrecked as they were attempting a rescue. Photos show the smashed boat and men of the coast guard cutter Mojave, who dared death to rescue the six.

Film Stars Answer Query Raised by "Eve's Two Lovers"

Do women want to dominate or be dominated in marriage? Do they want a weak husband or a strong one? Film stars, answering the queries raised by "Eve's Two Lovers," new romance by Edgar Poe Norris, who is in the picture, can't agree. Colleen Moore, whose husband is John McCormick, film maker, welcomes "reasonable control." Anna Q. Nilsson, a divorcee, advocates woman as the "governing force." Lewis Stone thinks many women welcome domination. A wife should cater to her husband's wishes, Lloyd Hughes says. "Rule within reason," is a right of every husband, Jack Mulhall contends. Mary Astor is inclined to believe domination doesn't hurt women. Where there's romance domination is excusable, avers Dolores Del Rio, who is very much married. Dick Barthelmess thinks the husband ought to have the right to "suggest" things.

SUES RELATIVES TO RECOVER PROPERTY OBTAINED WRONGLY

Alleging his son and daughter-in-law persuaded him to deed certain real estate to his son and daughter by grossest and fraudulent misrepresentations and then neglected to abide by their contract, D. H. Middleton has brought suit in Common Pleas Court against John A. Middleton and Elizabeth Middleton to enjoin defendants from disposing of the property and asks that the deed be set aside.

Plaintiff claims he owns a one-half interest in certain real estate and deeded it to John Middleton and his wife while defendant's sister, Lena McDonald, received $3,000 as her share.

Defendants neglected to conform with their agreement and provide him with the comforts of life and care for him in their respective homes, leaving him without support, plaintiff avers.

Marshall and Marshall are attorneys for the plaintiff.

WANTS LIENS SET UP

Darry S. Murphy, administrator of the estate of Fred T. G. Weaver, has brought suit in Common Pleas Court against William Tanner, Elsie M. Tanner, The Peoples Building and Savings Co., and William P. Harkraker.

Plaintiff alleges Fred Weaver obtained two judgments against William and Elsie Tanner in court December 15, 1913, amounting to $678.01 and costs, which are due and unpaid.

The loan company and William P. Harkraker, holding mortgages on the defendant's property, are asked by the plaintiff to set up their liens that the estate may levy on property in payment. Attorney H. D. Smith represents plaintiff.

FORMER PROFESSOR AT ANTIOCH VISITS AT YELLOW SPRINGS

Arthur A. Hauck, formerly of Antioch College, Moraine Park School in Dayton, and formerly director of the conservancy district schools, now president of Oahu College, Honolulu, stopped off in Dayton Thursday night to visit friends en route from Hawaii to the National Educational Association's winter meeting at Washington, D. C. next week.

Mr. Hauck went to Yellow Springs Friday to renew friendships with acquaintances at Antioch College, where he was at one time in charge of the department of education before going to Hawaii. He expects to remain in the states for several weeks.

Mr. Hauck declares Hawaii is "probably the most tolerant place in the world." There has never been a race riot there, he said. Japanese, Chinese, Americans and Hawaiians are enrolled in the same classes at Oahu College, which is of college preparatory grade.

Hawaiian public schools maintain a high standard also and many young people prepare for college in them," the former Antioch teacher said.

Because of conflict with the visit of Mr. Hauck to Dayton Thursday, P. B. Slutz, principal of Moraine Park High school, postponed an engagement to address the Central High School student body and P. T. A. Thursday afternoon on the assembly program.

UNIFORM EXAMS ARE PLANNED AT MEET

Uniform plan of examination of all eighth grade and high school seniors of the county was decided upon at the meeting of county superintendents in offices of County Superintendent H. C. Aultman, Thursday afternoon. All schools were represented but Ross Twp.

Literary meets between several high schools of the county were scheduled. Programs will consist of operettas, plays, music, readings, essays and other activities of literary worth.

Provisions of the Baxter law as related to several districts and their needs were worked out at the meeting.

MEN JURORS SMOKED WOMEN TO VERDICT

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Feb. 19.—Smoking as an insidious means of coercing women jurors in voting as the male members desire, has been developed here.

Nine men who desired the acquittal of a woman charged with illegal sale of intoxicating liquors found the three woman members of the jury firm for conviction. The majority, then proceeded to make the room unbearable for the minority and a verdict of acquittal was rendered when the women were "smoked out."

Such is the story told by the husband of one of the women jurors involved.

CHILD DIES

"Not Possible to Classify"

By Mack Sauer

I'm the happiest man in town. Nope, not a new baby. You give up. Well, it's rock candy. Lou Clevenger sent it to me. Thanks, Lou. You're my friend for life. A little poem might not be out of place.

ODE TO ROCK CANDY

Let others speak of rocky heights
That great men have ascended.
Of mountains, hills and rugged peaks;
O'er which their paths have wandered:
Yea, let them speak of any rocks
That they may have 'round handy,
But I will sing the praise of one—
I'll sing of my rock candy.

Gibraltar's rock they've raved about
Ere since the world began,
You've heard them praise it high and low
And so has your old man;
Well, let them sing its praises high,
No doubt it is a dandy, my friend,
But, readers, I've one better still,
I'm proud of my rock candy.

My fortune now is on the rocks,
My bank account is busted,
No more the grocer sends me eats,
He says I can't be trusted;
But though the rocks are tough on me
And my good wife, Miranda,
We've still a fortune on our hands—
We have the old rock candy.

And when I pass to yonder shore
And leave this world behind me,
I wish that when I laid away
Some reader would remind me,
As I am lowered in the grave,
Where the earth is nice and sandy,
So I'll be sure to take along
A string of my rock candy.

PUZZLE QUESTION—Now that I've got it, what will I do with it? Sauer-kraut wouldn't be much good without weiners. Neither is rock candy much good without—well, lovely day, isn't it.

ALLEN SENTENCED TO PENITENTIARY AFTER GUILTY PLEA

Wade Allen, 47, colored, who pleaded guilty to an indictment returned by the grand jury last Monday for receiving stolen goods for implication in the theft of more than fifty chickens from Charles Sheridan, Paintersville Road, January 15, was given an indeterminate sentence of from one to seven years in the Ohio State Penitentiary by Common Pleas Judge R. L. Gowdy Thursday.

Allen was paroled in the custody of the Rev. A. M. Howe, this city, on condition that he reimburse Sheridan for the value of the number of chickens he is alleged to have disposed of. Value was placed at $34.75.

Parole of Allen marked the second application of the new law in Greene County forbidding judges from passing suspended sentences but permitting paroles in care of some responsible person.

Disposition of Allen's case also ended the chapter of the chicken stealing episode January 15, which resulted in three arrests.

Wayne Everett, an escaped convict from the London state prison farm, admitted implication in the theft and was returned to London to resume a one to twenty year sentence. Elmer Sharp, 37, arrested with Allen and Everett, was given a one to seven year sentence in the state penitentiary when he pleaded guilty to an indictment for grand larceny.

Chester Heafey, alias Harvey Griso, 30, New Carlisle, indicted by the grand jury on two counts of forgery, will be brought before Judge Gowdy for sentence Friday. He has pleaded guilty to both counts.

MANY ATTEND MIAMI TRAFFIC CLUB MEET

Xenia was well represented at the annual dinner-meeting of the Miami Valley Traffic Club at the Gibbons Hotel, Dayton, Thursday night, attended by more than 400 members from twenty-five cities.

Judge Roland W. Baggett, Dayton, was the principal speaker, discussing the subject: "You Can't Legislate Upon Human Nature." Other speakers were T. T. Webster, general traffic manager of the G. H. Mead Co., T. Percy Stabler, president of the club, and H. W. Prior, sales manager of the DeLoe-Light Co.

The entire program was broadcast from station WSMK at the Gibbons Hotel through remote control under arrangements with the S. M. K. Radio Corporation.

DROVE DEATH CAR

DAYTON, Ohio, Feb. 19.—Arrest of Robert Graff, 17, 527 Young St., Middletown, Ohio, at his home yesterday afternoon led to his confession that he drove the automobile which struck and killed Thelma Willis 7, R. R. 1, Germantown, on the Middletown Pike near her home Tuesday afternoon.

Embarrassing eruption on face disappears when Resinol is used

Hadley, Mass., May 28.—"For some time I had been troubled with an eruption on my face which nothing I tried seemed to relieve. I had read about Resinol and decided to give it a trial. For a week I bathed my face every night with warm water and Resinol Soap and then applied the Ointment. At the end of that time the eruption had entirely disappeared. I cannot praise the Resinol products too highly." (Signed) Lillian Hull.

The Theatre

Here is a bit of advance information for movie fans, "The Merry Widow," with Mae Murray and John Gilbert, will be the feature attraction at the Bijou Theater, February 25 and 26.

And there is a story connected with it, which, however, must be kept strictly in confidence. Manager Hibbert booked the picture when it was first released in production a year ago. Later on, as its release date approached, the company asked for release from the contract, saying the picture would not be finished. Manager Hibbert released the picture whereupon the picture was issued and its booking price boosted sky high. Manager Hibbert didn't give this out for publication but it goes to show the troubles of the booker. Keep it quiet.

Here's the latest news from the camera "firing line."

Adolphe Menjou and company are in England to film scenes of Michael Arlen's "The Ace of Cads;" Raymond Griffith to make fantastic film, "The Ship That Sails to Mars;" Reported that Joseph Schenck and Samuel Goldwyn will pool their interests in making "The Garden of Allah," with Norma Talmadge and Ronald Colman; Leatrice Joy to take lead in "Eve's Leaves;" Adolphe Menjou will play Satan, Carol Dempster and Greta Nissen will be feminine leads in "The Sins of Satan;" Irene Rich recovering from a nervous collapse in New York brought on by personal appearances; Frances X. Bushman signed by Universal to play opposite Mary Philbin in "Technic;" Title of Gloria Swanson's new picture, "The Untamed Lady."

Every once in a while, a motion picture star breaks forth with his ideas of men, women and life in general. Adolphe Menjou, bon vivant of the screen now speaks: "At thirty-five women are most charming."

"I can call to mind only three women who had beauty, grace and intelligence: Lina Cavalieri, Elsie Ferguson and Pauline Frederick. "The only women who can even attempt to hold their husbands are the women who work. I do not mean if a woman can paint a little, but if she can go out and sell that painting, then she is interesting."

Good news for women fans—Richard Dix the adorable, matinee idol of the cinema enthusiasts, is coming to the Bijou Theater Saturday afternoon and night in "Womanhandled," a Paramount production. The story is the answer to the famous movie "Manhandled." Luther Reed adapted the yarn for screen purposes from the Saturday Evening Post story by Arthur Stringer, who also wrote "Manhandled." Esther Ralston plays opposite the lovable Mr. Dix in the current production and the cast also includes Cora Withams, Olive Tell, Eli Nadel, Edmund Breese, Margaret Morris, Ivan Simpson and Edgar Nelson. And now, after saying lots of nice things about Mr. Dix, it is necessary to break the spell. In "Womanhandled" he does not play a role in which he is irresistible to women. It is not that he is irresistible to women but that he is "womanhandled" by their gentle requests. And there you have it.

EAST END NEWS

ST. JOHN'S A. M. E. CHURCH

Rev. R. E. Hutchison, Pastor.

Mrs. R. E. Hutchison entertained the "Ever Ready" club Wednesday evening at the parsonage.

The Steward and Trustee boards met in joint session at the parsonage Wednesday evening and discussed plans for the big rally to be held the fourth Sunday in April. The prayer meeting, Wednesday evening was conducted by Rev. Parker of Wilberforce.

Sunday services will be as follows:

10:45 a.m., praise service and preaching; 12:30 p.m., Sunday School; special feature, paper "Never Too Late to Learn," V. Everett Evans, William S. Rogers, Supt.; 6:30 p.m., A. C. E. League and program, Miss Marjorie Byrd, leader; 7:30 p.m., preaching by the pastor. You are welcome to our church.

MUSICAL COMEDY IS REPEATED TO LARGE AUDIENCE THURSDAY

"The Lady in Blue," Xenia's home-grown musical comedy, was repeated before a capacity audience at City Hall Theater Thursday night.

Performers, with the advantage of one performance behind them, gave a smooth presentation that pleased an audience that packed the theater to the roof. Standing room only signs were hung out both nights.

Joseph P. Foody Post, American Legion, was pleased with the response given the production by the public and the post will benefit largely because the play was written, directed and staged entirely by home talent without the aid of paid direction.

Many theater goers voted it the best amateur stage offering here for many seasons. As a result of the success, the Legion is planning to repeat the performance at the Soldiers' Home, Dayton next week, although arrangements so far are only tentative. Overtures will also be made to the Wilmington Legion with a view to staging the performance in that city also. It is reported.

JAMES CRUZE'S Successor to "THE COVERED WAGON"

Yes, sir!
that's my buddy!

TRouble's a bubble, just as the song says. And you can stick it with the stem of your old jimmy-pipe . . . packed to the brim with Prince Albert. Friendly, fragrant Prince Albert. Cool, comfortable Prince Albert. A pal in the pinches . . . a cheer-leader when you're on top.

Pipe-peeves vanish in a P. A. smoke-screen. Problems go up in smoke. Cool and sweet and fragrant, P. A. sifts into your system and pins a big red rose on the workaday world. Tobacco with a real mission in life . . . to make you pipe-happy and keep you that way!

And listen to this: P. A. can't nip your tongue or parch your throat! Because—the Prince Albert process put a padlock on tongue-torture right at the start; gave Bite and Parch the gate in the beginning . . . and they've never been back!

Men who thought they never could smoke a pipe have tried again with Prince Albert . . . and stuck! Go and do you likewise. There's a friendly shop nearby where they hand out P. A. sunshine in tidy red tins. Take the shortest cut. Step lively! Your tobacco troubles will then be over for all time.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

"I'm Slender Because I did this"

That is the story many thousands are telling. They have told it for 18 years. It is the story of Marmola Prescription Tablets—the easy, pleasant way to reduce. Today their results are known to millions the world over. They are shown by slender figures in almost every class. Now people are taking 100,000 boxes of these famous tablets monthly.

Marmola acts directly on the cause of excess fat. No abnormal exercise, no starvation diet. We state all the ingredients and explain how they act, so no user can have any question about them.

Excess fat is a blight to beauty, to health and efficiency. Anyone who keeps it does injustice to herself.

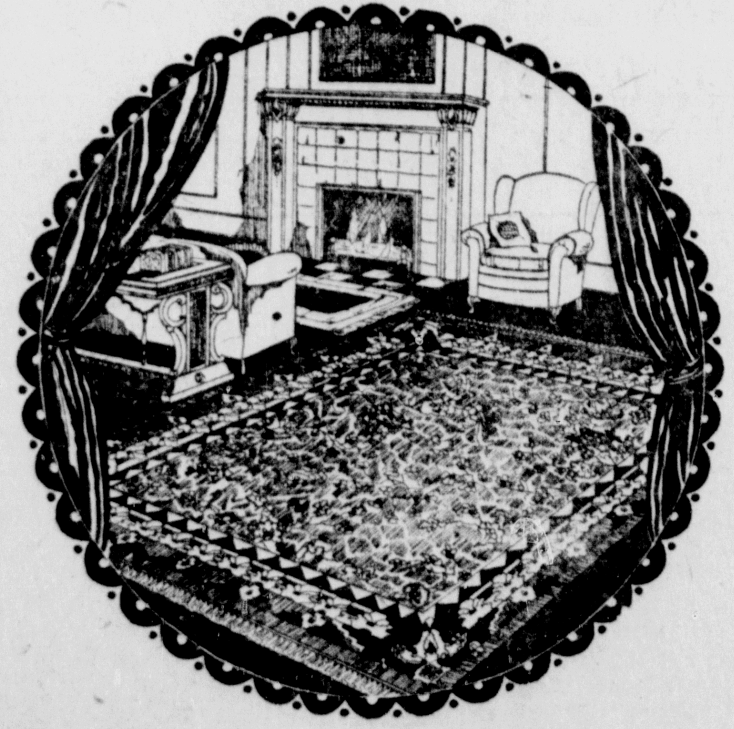

Why not investigate this treatment which for 18 years has done so much? Whose results you see on every side today? Why not learn how multitudes are keeping slender in a scientific way? You owe that to yourself.

Marmola Prescription Tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. Send this coupon for our latest book, a 25-cent sample free, and our guarantee. Clip it now.

Aluminum Company Exonerated

REPORT OF JUSTICE DEPARTMENT HOLDS FIRM IS BLAMELESS

Investigators Urge No Action Against Mel- lon Concern

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—A clean bill for fair and legal business health was given the Aluminum Company of America—controlled by Secretary of Treasury Mellon and his brother, B. B. Mellon—in a report of the department of justice, made public today.

The report, made after six months investigation by department agents, holds there is no foundation for the four anti-trust complaints of the Federal Trade Commission against the company. Its prices are not fixed in violation of the law; it is not hindering competitors from enlarging their business; it has not furnished defective material to consumers and is not responsible for delaying shipments of material, a copy of the report obtained by the United Press states.

"By reason of the lack of evidence upon which to base a citation in contempt against the company or its officers and agents for violations of the decree of 1912, it is recommended that no action be taken by the department in this matter," the report concludes.

The report will be the storm center of the movement instituted in the senate by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, conductor of the oil scandal investigations, for a complete inquiry into the company's activities.

On Monday when the senate reconvenes, the report will be officially submitted by Chairman Cummins of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

RIEGLER IN FAVOR OF PROPOSED CONTEST

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 19.—The state-wide peace declaration contest for high school students was heartily endorsed today by Vernon M. Riegel, state director of education.

He said he would recommend that high schools in the state give credits in English work to pupils participating in the contest, being organized by the Ohio Council of Churches. Churches throughout the state will aid in the contest. Three state prizes of $500, $300 and $200, bronze silver and gold medals will be awarded, accompanied by college scholarships providing for four, two, and one year, respectively.

"Our pupils often get too little opportunity for oral expression," Riegel declared on commenting on the valuable educational agency. Riegel hopes ministers and church leaders will avail themselves in "developing interest in the contest among the young people."

NEW YORK COMBATS EPIDEMIC OF GRIP

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—A pall of soft coal smoke continued to hang over this city today while health officials were considering emergency measures to combat a mild epidemic of colds and grip.

Dr. Louis I. Harris, health commissioner said he might ask large department stores and theaters to change their closing hours so as to prevent overcrowded subways during the present "rush hours."

The weather bureau predicted that a fresh wind some time today would carry away the black fog that has bothered housewives for days. Washed clothing has been gray when taken from outdoor lines and curtains have been blackened.

"NEVER FORGED A CHECK BEFORE AND I NEVER WILL AGAIN" YOUNG GIRL SOBS

WOOSTER, Ohio, Feb. 19.—"I never forged a check before and I never will try it again," sobbed pretty 20 year old Irene Stout who formerly taught a Methodist Sunday School class in Lorain, in the city jail here today.

Irene found a blank check-book in the street yesterday. She had been looking for work and the checkbook, she said, gave her the idea of acquiring easy wealth.

The girl entered a mercan-

Chicago and Kansas City Hit—Xenians Are Lucky

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 19.—Coming out of the northwest, a cold wave accompanied by heavy snow fall and cold winds, swooped down upon Ohio unexpectedly during the night.

More than three inches of snow blanketed central Ohio, necessitating the use of snow plows in sections where the wind drifted the flakes.

The snow which began falling after midnight, had abated this morning. No major casualties had been reported at an early hour, although scores of persons were injured in minor accidents, directly attributable to the cold and snow.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Relief from the heavy snow storm that whipped the Great Lakes region to last twenty-four hours was promised today by the United States weather bureau.

Temperatures will remain around the freezing point but skies will be clear and the wind will abate, the forecasters predicted.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 19.—Promised the aid of clear skies and a warm sun, Kansas and Missouri today started to dig out of the 9-inch snow fall of yesterday.

Two deaths were reported here as the result of the storm. A woman was frozen to death in Kansas. A 52 year old man died here from heart disease brought on by over-exertion.

Although Xenia and Greene Co., felt the sudden drop in temperature Thursday night, the heavy snow fall reported from other Ohio cities failed to materialize by inches here. The wintry encore amounted to only a feeble gesture with just enough snow on the streets Friday morning to let people know it had quit raining. An enthusiastic sun played havoc with the light precipitation during the day.

TRAINMAN KILLED IN FREIGHT WRECK

NEWTON JUNCTION, N. H., Feb. 19.—A Boston and Maine train en route from Boston to Portland, Me., side swiped a freight train here today.

One man was killed in the wreck which resulted, two were seriously injured and scores of passengers were shaken up.

Howard Spencer, of Portland, a brakeman on the freight train was the man killed.

She was detained temporarily while, without her knowledge, a telephone inquiry went to the bank. There was no record of "Mrs. John Payne" and Miss Stout was arrested.

It was expected she will be reprimanded and admonished as to the pitfalls of crime and released.

WOMAN ADMITS PLOT TO SLAY HUSBAND FOR LIFE INSURANCE

Says She Believed He Would Elope With Girl

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 19.—Fear that her husband Charles A. Lisenburg would run away with a 15-year-old girl led Mrs. Elden V. Lisenburg to enter a plot to kill him and collect $50,000 life insurance, she told police today.

Mrs. Lisenburg says the plot was arranged by John Dishalvo, operator of a cabaret here.

Dishalvo revealed the plot to police, according to Lincoln Toyn, chief of detectives. Dishalvo told police he had received a letter from Mrs. Lisenburg in which she asked him to kill her husband, for which Dishalvo was to receive $5,000. Toyn said he told Dishalvo to tell Mrs. Lisenburg that he would send a man to do the killing.

O. V. King, detective, represented himself as an underworld character and entered into the arrangements for the "killing" according to police.

Mrs. Lisenburg is held for observation.

This is the second alleged murder plot to be brought to light here in the last few days. Recently Mrs. Alberdine Frank and Carl B. Davis confessed in written statements to plotting to kill Mrs. Frank's husband, E. L. Frank. Mrs. Frank and Davis are held in the county jail charged with conspiracy to commit a felony.

Beauty Held in Fake Holdup Death Plot Aimed at Husband

Charges of conspiracy with intent to kill hang over Mrs. Albertina Frank, 24, and Carl B. Davis, who are held by Kansas City police. It is alleged that Mrs. Frank plotted with Davis to murder her husband in a fake hold-up. A slip-up caused the plot to be frustrated. Both have confessed, police aver. Mrs. Frank and Davis are shown.

OHIO PROHIBITION DEPARTMENT MAY BE PROBED BY DONAHEY

Governor Questions
Propst About Use of
Women Decoys

COLUMBUS, Feb. 19.—Following revelations that the state prohibition department has been using women to entrap liquor law violators, State Dry Inspectors S. A. Propst, was summoned before Governor Donahey, today to explain a raid on Marshal Harry Nutt of Westerville, in which a woman known under several aliases and admittedly connected with the prohibition forces, figured.

As Propst appeared before the governor, the executive indicated entire enforcement department may be investigated. No liquor was found during the Nutt raid and Propst, who with the woman, known also as Ruth Farrell, is said to have engineered the raid, was asked to explain upon what information the raid was based.

"Miss Farrell" admitted she was employed by the prohibition department and exhibited a $30 check marked "Prohibition Fund."

The governor's entry into the probe was expected to result in a general clean up in Westerville, where village manager L. G. Whitney charged "it has been an open secret that gambling, bootlegging and petty thieving existed without any worthwhile effort toward suppression being made."

Both Propst and Miss "Farrell" denied Nutt, whom Whitney holds responsible for alleged conditions in Westerville, was "framed."

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 19.—Ethel Leginska, temperamental pianist, who was to have shared in a concert here last night with Paul Kochanski, violinist, died another of her famous fade-aways and failed to appear.

The erratic pianist, whose absences have created more publicity than her appearances, however, this time is reported not to have completely disappeared.

Announcement was made that Miss Leginska was suffering from a nervous breakdown and was under the care of a physician.

WHITE HOUSE IS QUIET WHILE
CHIEF ILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The White House is a quiet place at best and now that President Coolidge is ill, 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, has become a deserted manse.

Guards and secret service men in the executive offices sit around and combat boredom as best they may, newspaper men play chess and swap yarns while the cameramen have deserted the front steps for more lucrative fields.

Usually a dozen distinguished callers break the monotony of the day or something provides amusement for the attaches, but now even the cranks seem to avoid the White House and the slender number of visitors to inspect the east room are the only strangers to enter the executive doors.

When the president retires to the White House proper he is completely shut off from the world. News of his condition during his present illness with a heavy cold, is transmitted through his secretary, Everett Sanders and what information trickles through this source is quite meager.

INVASION OF UNION MINERS TO INDIANA IS NOT CARRIED OUT

Reported Move To Aid
Organization Fails to Materialize

EVANSVILLE, IND., Feb. 18.—Authorities in this region were relieved today when the invasion of Southern Indiana's mining district by a "caravan" of 400 union miners from the southern Illinois coal fields failed to materialize.

Word was flashed through this district last night the union miners from southern Illinois, where the unions are well organized against non-union employment—had started for the coal fields near Evansville to assist the Indiana union men in their campaign to close all mines employing non-union labor.

Heavy guards were thrown about mines in this region, and Sheriff's posses were posted along the Wabash river to stop the reported "invasion." No trace of the Illinois miners, who were said to be traveling in 100 automobiles, was found however.

Union sympathizers in southern Indiana have been conducting a campaign against non-union mines. Threats of violence have been heard, but except for a few minor scuffles, the campaign has been orderly.

ESTABLISHMENT OF PROPOSED AIR MAIL LINE AUTHORIZED

Route Will Pass Through
Dayton To Cincinnati

AKRON, Ohio, Feb. 19.—The Cleveland, Akron, Columbus, Dayton and Cincinnati direct air mail route was one step nearer today after Postmaster General New authorized the establishment of such a line to connect with the trans-continental air line at Cleveland.

New conditioned his backing however, upon the support of the citizens in the respective cities to be served.

The only thing hindering the plan from becoming a reality is the finding of a private company to carry the mail between the five cities.

Night service would be established over the route with Columbus, Akron, Dayton and Cincinnati as regular stops under the tentative plan.

It was reported that the Cincinnati postal authorities would confer with Representatives of the Ford Flying interests for planes to carry the mail. No date has been set for the inauguration of the service.

How soon contracts are awarded, it is said, rests upon the support that the interested cities show in the project.

PRESIDENT BETTER SECRETARY STATES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(UP)—Although his cold is better, President Coolidge canceled his cabinet meeting scheduled for this morning, remaining in bed on the advice of his physician, Major James F. Coupal.

Mr. Coolidge intends to get up this afternoon, however, to attend the bi-weekly press conference at 4 o'clock.

The President's illness is just a bad cold, his secretary Everett Sanders said, after a ten minute visit at the White House. The President appears improved, Sanders said, denying he has influenza.

Sanders took the President a huge stack of letters which he signed.

Mr. Coolidge's pulse and temperature are normal, Sanders said.

Physician Is Latest Victim—Women of City Alarmed

(By United Press)
OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 19.—Their nerves on edge, women here today kept police jumping from one end of the city to the other in quest of the "maniac sniper" who has killed two persons, wounded another and shot a half a dozen others this week.

Fifty calls were investigated by police. All were found to be false alarms.

One woman declared she heard two shots in an apartment next to her's, but investigation declared that the lady never declared showing a light, had fallen over the bed, making a loud noise.

One hundred armed citizens aide police, patrolling the section of the city where the maniac has been working.

The murder of Dr. A. D. Searles, prominent physician, found dead in his locked office yesterday remained unsolved today. His murderer left a .22 calibre shell of a kind used only on target ranges and which will kill at a distance of 200 yards, as the only clue. It was the same kind of a shell that has been found in each instance where persons have been shot at.

An autopsy showed that the bullet that killed Dr. Searles entered the skull behind the left ear. This is the same kind of wound that killed William McDevitt Sunday night.

ALLEGED BANDITS
CAUGHT BY FARMERS

BELLEFONTAINE, O., Feb. 19.—While authorities searched for a fourth man who leaped into a stolen automobile and escaped, Charles St. Claire, 25; Jack Malone, 27 and Eddie Parker, 24, all of Toledo, were in the county jail here today, suspected of burglarizing a hardware store at DeGraff Wednesday night.

The suspects were captured by posses of farmers and deputies from Hardin and Logan Counties, near Yelverton, Hardin County, yesterday, after one of their number, Parker, had been shot through the ear.

Guns and ammunition, believed stolen from the DeGraff store, were found in the tonneau of the men's automobile which they abandoned near Yelverton after it skidded and turned over. Farmers who noticed the weapons called authorities, the capture following.

WILL ARBITRATE
SALARY DEMANDS

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Fear of serious wage difficulties between leading railroads of the west and their conductors and trainmen were dispelled today by the calling of an arbitration conference which is expected to reach a compromise.

Operating officials of fifty class "A" railroads in the territory west of Chicago, agreed to the arbitration conference after heads of the conductors and trainmen's unions had served notice that some agreement must be reached by March 2.

Wage increases totaling approximately $500,000 annually have been asked by the unions.

DR. PATTERSON TALKS TO BUSINESS WOMEN'S CLUB

Beautiful scenes of his travels over the European continent last summer were shown members of the Xenia Business and Professional Women's Club by Dr. A. M. Patterson, this city, at the monthly club meeting, Knights of Pythias Hall.

Dr. Patterson attended international chemical sessions in Europe and he and Mrs. Patterson visited many points of interest during the sojourn of several weeks. Pictures were taken with the aid of a stereoscopic lantern and were highly appreciated by the club.

The talk and the picture show followed dinner and the usual business meeting. The meeting was one of the largest during the year, the membership being augmented by the Travel Club members.

FRIENDS CHURCH DINNER THURSDAY

One hundred people attended the annual congregational dinner at Friends Church, Thursday evening. Members of the church brought covered dishes and a variety of good things was served in abundance.

"Full Church Program" for the coming year was outlined by the pastor, the Rev. S. R. Burnett, after dinner. Business meeting was followed by an informal social time.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Playmates of little Miss Virginia Turnbull shared in her celebration of her seventh birthday at her home on N. King St. Thursday afternoon. A jolly time was enjoyed by Virginia's guests and the festivities closed with the serving of ice cream, cake and candy. Favors of dainty canyons and tokens of Washington's birthday were given.

Junior Music Lovers' Club will be entertained by Miss Ellean Sayre, N. King St., Saturday afternoon. An election of officers will be held and a special program presented.

Mrs. Mary Vetter, Spring Valley, who is spending the winter with her granddaughter, Mrs. Grace Burrows, Detroit, Mich., fell Sunday and broke her hip, according to word received by Spring Valley friends. Mrs. Vetter is confined in a Detroit hospital as a result of the accident.

County School Superintendent H. C. Aultman and Mrs. Aultman, are leaving Saturday afternoon for Washington, D. C., where Superintendent Aultman will attend the National Superintendents' Convention. They will spend the larger part of next week in Washington, as the guests of Mrs. Aultman's uncle, Mr. J. S. Montgomery, chaplain in the House of Representatives. Rural education will be one of the important topics to come up at the superintendents' meeting.

Regular meeting of the children's missionary society, Trinity M. E. Church, or the "Buffalo roundup" has been postponed until a later date.

The Rev. William H. Tilford will preach at the O. S. and S. O. Home services Sunday morning. He will dramatize the events of "David and Goliath" for the children. Among other things the "Wallboard Giant" will be set up to help impress the lessons of the story.

King's Heralds and Home Guards of the First M. E. Church will meet in the basement of the church Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Any Sunday schools having left-over papers or papers and Bibles they wish to distribute, are asked to leave them at either the Social Service League or 123 N. Monroe St.

The Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Fyrtzberger attended Tuesday and Thursday's sessions of the Board of Administration, United Brethren Church of America, in Dayton.

Mrs. William Hester, London, O., is visiting her daughter, Miss Dorothy Hester, until Saturday, coming to attend the performance of "The Lady in Blue" in which Miss Hester appeared.

PATRIOTIC PROGRAM AT ST. BRIGID'S THURSDAY

Parochial grade school pupils entertained the St. Brigid High School student body and faculty at the school with a combined Lincoln and Washington program Thursday afternoon.

The entertainment proved one of the most enjoyable affairs of the year and pupils acquitted themselves creditably in songs and short recitations. Program follows:

First and second grades—Song: "George Washington"; Recitation: "Washington"; John Downes and Melvin Downey.

Third and fourth grades—Song: "America"; and recitation, "Our First President."

Fifth and sixth grades—Song: "Washington's Birthday."

Seventh and eighth grades—Recitations: "The Man Who Knew Lincoln," Ellen McCurran; "Was Lincoln a King?" Helen Downes; Song: "Our Country and America Forever."

D. A. R. AND MUSIC CLUB JOINT MEETING

Catherine Greene Chapter, D. A. R., will celebrate the birthday of George Washington with a musicale at the home of Mrs. S. M. McKay, W. Church St., Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The program, in charge of Mrs. W. H. McGervey, will be given in costume by members of the Xenia Woman's Musical Club and will be one of unusual interest.

Mrs. Laura Alexander, Mrs. J. O. McCormick and Mrs. H. A. Hoffman, will assist Mrs. McKay during the afternoon.

First M. E. Church choir will meet at the home of Miss Helen Jones, N. Detroit St., Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. Donald Currie will spend the week end at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, where he will attend the initiation of his fraternity, Beta Theta Phi.

PAGE MACK SAUER! CIDER MAY BE KEPT SWEET UNTIL JUNE

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 19.—Sweet cider in June, with its natural flavor and aroma, may soon be available at soda fountains, if investigations now under way at Ohio State University are successful.

It has been possible to preserve cider by pasteurization, but not without a loss in flavor, according to L. M. Montgomery, professor of horticulture at the state university.

Large companies have also been able to preserve cider effectively.

SUFFERED WITH CONSTIPATION 25 YEARS

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brought relief in 3 weeks!

Read this remarkable testimonial to the power of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN over constipation:

"I prize my ALL-BRAN. I have been using it three weeks for constipation. I had had this trouble for 25 years and had tried everything, but could never get any relief—until since using your bran I can truthfully say that I am entirely cured and feel like a new man."

Yours truly,
THOMAS A. HENLEY, JR.
Blotchy skin, eruptions, spots before the eyes, headaches—these all tell of the ravaging effects of constipation. Don't let this dire disease send its poisons through your body. Check it now and save your health and happiness!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation permanently if used regularly or money refunded. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, every meal.

Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek, Michigan. Kellogg's is 100 percent bran. Ready to eat. Delicious with fruit or cream—also cooking. Served in all restaurants. Sold by all grocers.

SOOT BLAMED FOR SMALL FIRE DAMAGE

Fire damage, estimated at $20 was sustained at the home of Mrs. Mattie Hedges, near the viaduct, S. Monroe St., Friday noon. Burning soot fell down the chimney into the fireplace which had been covered with wood and tin.

The wood covering was set afire and the mantle and furniture near by damaged in the blaze. Firemen were forced to use both water and chemicals to extinguish the blaze.

Keep Pimples away

WHY do you let those unsightly pimples, black heads and blotches disfigure your skin and ruin your appearance? You can keep them away, if you keep your system full of rich, red blood. And not only that, but the very texture of your skin will be soft and velvet like—and the coloring radiant as a rose.

It's all in the blood. And S. S. S. will help Nature keep your blood rich and red and pure.

Yes, you can keep pimples away, simply by taking S. S. S. That's a fact. The kind of red-blood-cells that S. S. S. helps Nature build makes your skin beautiful—clears it up just like it puts firm flesh on you—brings strength to weak, flabby muscles—gives you an appetite like you used to have—and generates the energy and vitality of youth throughout your entire system.

Just try it and see for yourself! All druggists sell S. S. S. Get the larger bottle. It's more economical.

LAME BACK OR LUMBAGO PAIN

"Heet" Relieves Instantly

Use applicator attached to cork, and brush "Heet" over the pain area. Immediately, you feel this harmless, glorious, penetrating heat draw the pain, soreness and stiffness right out of your lame, aching back. Besides, "Heet" scatters the congestion and establishes a cure.

"Heet" instantly relieves rheumatic or neuritis pain in any joint, muscle or nerve, whether in the arm, shoulder, neck, legs or body. "Heet" contains two soothing penetrating ingredients, too expensive to use in ordinary liniments or analgesics. "Heet" is a clean pleasant liquid; doesn't stain, blister or irritate the skin and costs only 60 cents at any drug store.—Adv.

KEEPS HER NAME CLEAN.

ONE thousand armed men stood about in the streets of Lexington, Ky., the other day. They had ugly looking tanks with them, field pieces, three dozen machine guns. The city was on a war footing.

All of this was done to protect the life of one poor negro—an addled gentleman by the name of Harris who had slain three people and who, it was feared, would surely be torn limb from limb by an angry mob if he ever appeared outside his prison cell.

But Harris had to be tried, and the trial had to be held at Lexington. So the shivering colored man was whisked to the courtroom from the Frankfort prison, fifty miles away, with a fair-sized army standing about with loaded guns, to see to it that he was not harmed.

The whole thing cost the state of Kentucky $20,000.

That seems like a rather high price, particularly in view of the following: Harris, fifteen minutes after he had entered the courtroom, was sentenced to be hanged on March 5.

The state spent $20,000 to save his life only to order his life forfeited one month later.

Was the expenditure justified—or was it endless waste? Why should officials go to such pains to safeguard the very man they will kill later?

In one way it wasn't worth it. Five weeks from now Harris will be dead anyway. Viewed merely from the angle of the value of Harris' life to the community, it does seem as though $20,000 were a high price to pay for an extra month.

But there is another angle to it.

Kentucky wasn't really protecting the poor negro that afternoon at Lexington. Kentucky was protecting herself—protecting her good name, her reputation for law-abiding decency and levelheadedness.

For while it doesn't matter greatly to anyone whether Harris is killed now or a month from now, it does matter greatly that Kentucky prove her ability to uphold the orderly processes of law, no matter what the occasion. If the state and city officials had stood idly by and let Harris be lynched it would have been a shameful thing—shameful for the nation most shameful for Kentucky.

Kentucky met the challenge well. If it had cost three times $20,000 to save Harris from the mob, it still would have been worth it. For Kentucky has proved that, cost what it may, orderly processes of law will be preserved and black citizens as well as white will be protected.

Kentucky defended her reputation and defended it well. It met a trying situation with intelligence.

DOCTORS.

STATISTICS recently released in the Journal of the American Medical Association show that the death rate among doctors is far higher than among other people. The death rate for the country as a whole is 11.9; for the doctors, 17.22.

It would be interesting to know how much of this excess is due to the relatively high mortality rate among country physicians. The willingness of these men to risk their lives in winter storms, midnight gales, spring rains and other dangerous conditions has been proverbial. They have never received half praise enough.

BAD SPORTS?

THE London Daily Sketch prints an interview with a prominent British explorer who complains that we Americans, in kicking about Britain's rubber monopoly, are proving ourselves poor sportsmen.

To bear out his claim, he points out that America has made England pay hundreds of millions for wheat, cotton, copper and nickel; that we practically have a shipping monopoly in Central America; that our motor cars are crowding out British makes even in the British colonies, that we are rapidly ousting British trade in Brazil and Argentina. And yet, he says, when England experiences a trade revival and begins to profit by her rubber industry, we cry aloud to heaven that we are abused.

There's something in his remarks, at that. We are paying higher prices for our rubber; but wouldn't it be just as well to take it with good grace and not yell like a lot of spoiled children?

FEWER CITIES.

CRIPPLES are a relative rarity in the United States, compared with the rest of the world. There are only 115,000 physically blind persons in America. The legless are seldom seen and a man having one member missing is a curiosity. The same is true of the deformed. But American visitors abroad return with stories of the hordes of blind, crippled and deformed met with everywhere.

One of the principal reasons for the greater numbers of the physically handicapped abroad is war. Few countries in Europe and Asia have not participated in more than one war within the time of the living generations.

Another cause for the comparative scarcity of deformity and of cripples in this country is the higher standard of sanitation. Skilled medical service for all and rapid advances in surgery are preventing and curing the disease which leave their victims maimed. Many persons are made blind or otherwise crippled through industrial occupations, but this, too, has been reduced to a minimum in the United States by the introduction of safeguards in all factories.

In the great numbers of maimed and disfigured abroad there is a lesson for this country and in every cripple at home there is a lesson in safety first of every man, woman and child in America.

Beets: Wash carefully so as not to break the skin. Put into a saucepan and cover with boiling water. Boil gently till tender. Young beets cook in one hour. As they grow older, the cooking period must be lengthened. In winter often two hours are required to soften them. When done, rub off the skins, cut in thin slices, and serve with butter and salt.

FLOWERS IN ALASKA

A few weeks ago I read an article in one of the nearby papers, which said roses were blooming in Wrangell, Alaska. Even though I know something of Alaska, I rather doubted the statement, and sent the clipping to my sister, Mrs. Herbst of Ketchikan, Alaska. Here is her answer:

"Yes the item of the roses in bloom is true. A daughter of the man who has them lives here, (Ketchikan), but my garden primroses are in bloom, and across the street is a pink hollyhock almost out. Sunday, January 21, we thought our winter had come, but Monday evening came another southeaster, and more rain. Again 'tis like spring and the groundhog did not see his shadow, so we may not have any winter."

In another place in her letter she writes, "This is a wonderful morning. Daylight began to break at 6:30, then the color came in the south; to the west the moon still shone, and the water like glass reflecting the mountains, beauty strongly emphasized, is the only way to express it."

THRIFT

I cannot imagine anyone as a success who has not learned at least to prepare for the rainy day.

But thrift can be overdone. A friend of mine—or rather an acquaintance—died recently leaving nearly half a million dollars as an estate. Those who knew him best were greatly surprised. He lived on little. He spent nothing on his friends. In fact, he often borrowed from them. And then he died and left a bad memory and a big estate.

More people should go into honest debt. And what I mean by this is a debt that you intend and determine to pay. Strictly a business proposition.

Save for the rainy day—when you can enjoy the fruits of your labor and bear a real measure of pleasure.

It is good sense to go into debt to pay for your home or for a good real estate holding. Real estate is the best investment on the earth—for it is the earth itself.

But the same good sense should be used in selecting the ground you buy as in buying anything else. Too many think that any real estate is a good buy. Much of it is a bad buy if it cannot be made to earn.

Money should be sent out to work in the same way as you go out to work. As life shortens every man and woman should think out ways of conserving their energies and thus fortify their later years so that they may achieve in greater proportion than when they were all youth and ginger.

Save, but not niggardly. Invest but not unthinkingly.

THE Bread and Butter Wife

By Violet Dare

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

SALLY and TOM PORTER have separated, quarreling because Sally has insisted on returning to her work as a public stenographer after their marriage. The fact that she did so in order to pay their bills when he lost his job makes no difference to Tom.

SALLY finds other men ready to help her forget Tom, but she cannot put him out of her heart. At last she realizes that her life will always be incomplete without him, and when a letter comes from his sister,

EMILY, saying that Tom is devoting himself to another girl, Sally decides to make one more effort to straighten out the tangle between them.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT

XLVIII—HAPPILY EVER AFTER

AS Tom shut the front door behind him Sally rushed out from behind the screen where she had been hiding.

"Oh, Emily, he does care for me still, doesn't he?" she cried.

"Of course he does," Emily answered. "He's more in love with you than ever. He's just stubborn—he's been that way ever since he was a youngster. I'm afraid you'll have to go more than half way, Sally, if you want him back."

"Oh, I'd gladly go all the way on my hands and knees," Sally answered, catching up her hat and coat. "I'd do anything to make Tom realize that I care as much for him as he does for me."

But the problem of how to make him realize it was what worried her. She went back to the little apartment that he and she had shared, and spent the evening trying to plan. At last she hit upon what seemed to her to be the right scheme.

The next day she telephoned the agent for the building, through whom Tom had communicated with her.

"Please tell Mr. Porter that I can't give up the apartment just now; it will be most inconvenient for me to do so," she told him. "When I took it on a sub-lease from Mrs. Jenkins I understood that I was to have it for several months, and I can't possibly move now."

The agent agreed with her for some time, and finally told her that she'd have to see Mr. Porter himself.

"Very well—he can see me here late this afternoon," she replied.

Would Tom walk into her little trap and come, she wondered. She had not given her name as Mrs. Porter when she took the apartment, but had used her maiden name, Lee; Tom might be struck by the similarity, but she was sure that he would not suspect that she was "Mrs. Lee."

She was so nervous that afternoon that she could do nothing but walk about, straightening pictures and furniture, dusting chairs and tables that had been dusted until they shone.

Three o'clock—half past three—four. Well, she said "late in the afternoon," of course. Half past four—quarter of five. What if he didn't come at all?

It was five minutes after five when he doorknob rang. Sally ran down the hall to answer it. Her knees trembled; she laid one hand on the doorknob and then drew it back. What would Tom say?

At last she opened the door—and stood looking up at Tom, feeling that it couldn't be true that he was there, but that she had stepped into a dream.

"Sally! What are you doing here?" he exclaimed.

"Living here, and waiting for you to come," she answered, taking his hand and drawing him into the hall. "Oh, Tom, haven't we misunderstood each other long enough?"

"Why, I—you mean—"

"I mean that I saw where I was wrong, and I'm sorry."

"You weren't wrong—I was!"

"I don't care which of us was wrong," she said, as his arms held her tight. "We're not going to be wrong the same way again. Let's begin all over again, Tom, right here where we were happy for a little while, and make things turn out the way they should. I'm never going to leave home again, except to go to market! You were right about not wanting me to work after we were married."

"It was darned plucky of you to do it, when I didn't have a job," he interrupted. "I don't know what we have done if you hadn't gone back to work then. But now—oh, Sally, I can't give you much, but I want to take care of you, and have you stay here and make a home for us both, if you will."

"We seem to want the same thing," she told him, with a soft little laugh. "Isn't that lucky?"

Later she got dinner, a dinner she had planned that morning, in which she had included everything that Tom liked best. She had even attempted a lemon cream pie, which, though it was not quite what it might have been, Tom pronounced the best he had ever eaten.

"And now you can sit and smoke your pipe while I clean up," she told him when dinner was over.

"Not on your life!" he exclaimed, gathering up a pile of plates and following her to the kitchen. "Now I'm going to help you. This is going to be a fifty-fifty marriage, child, and don't you forget it."

"It's going to be a bread-and-butter marriage, Tom," she answered, "and I'm going to stop trying to earn the sugar to put on the bread."

"That's all right, too, sweetheart," he retorted. "With you to help me, I'll make money enough to give us both jam."

And when they settled down together later, to make plans and go back over the time when they had been separated and had wanted each other so much, Sally told herself that nobody else had ever been so happy as she was.

THE END.

COOKING BEETS, TURNIPS AND SPINACH

Several weeks ago I spoke about the proper cooking of cabbage, cauliflower and brussels sprouts. Today I want to tell my Bride Readers how to cook beets, turnips and spinach correctly.

Spinach: Clean it well, discarding roots and all imperfect leaves, and putting the vegetable through several waters. If it is at all wilted, let it stand in clear cold water till it becomes fresh and crisp. Then drain it from this water. Put it in boiling salted water (allowing three quarts of water and one tablespoon of salt to one-half peck of spinach). Let boil ten minutes, drawing the cover of the saucepan a little to one side the minute it begins to boil. This is merely launching it, to serve chopped and cooked in a cream sauce. If, however, you wish to serve it in butter, use the following method of cooking:

Spinach Cooked Without Water: Spinach when washed holds enough water for cooking. Put it into a large pot over the fire; cover and cook ten minutes. Press down and turn the spinach over several times during this cooking and, at the end of the ten minutes, place it in a chopping bowl and mince it rather fine. Return it to the pan and add seasonings to suit individual taste (about one teaspoonful of salt to one-half peck of spinach). Also add at least two generous tablespoons of butter to one-half peck of spinach. Simmer ten minutes and serve. This is a particularly good way of cooking the vegetable when it is very young and tender.

Turnips: The flat, white summer turnip, when sliced, will cook in 30 minutes and if cooked beyond this period of time, it will begin to grow dark in color and strong in flavor. The winter turnips, however, require from 45 to 60 minutes. Peel and slice them. Drop the slices into a pan containing enough boiling water to cover. Cook till tender, then drain. Put them back into the pan and, with a wooden potato-masher, mash them thoroughly. Season with salt to suit individual taste and add a teaspoon or two of butter. (Pepper if liked.) Serve at once.

PURE COD LIVER OIL

Give sickly children a chance

If your children are thin, underweight, backward in school, give them a chance. Build them up with COCO COD. It is nature's greatest aid to sound minds in sound bodies.

COCO COD is all nourishment—just pure cod liver oil, with the health-giving vitamins from eggs, yeast, lettuce and spinach. Tastes like chocolate, so children like to take it.

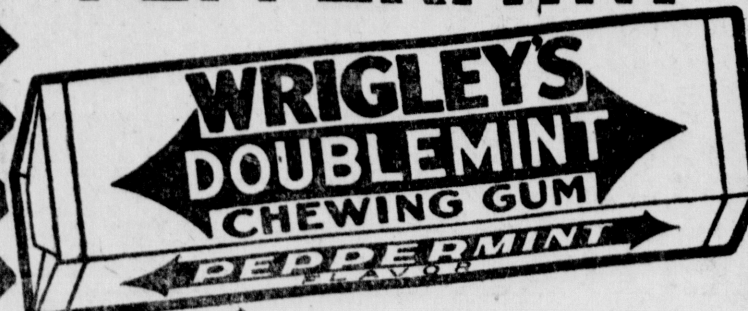

COCO COD works wonders in people who are weak from any cause. The convalescent, the anemic, the over-worked and run-down, all find that COCO COD gives them new lease on life. Recommended by physicians everywhere. Ask your doctor. All druggists. Begin TODAY—take COCO COD for health!

Dr. E. M. Steele writes: "Have given COCO COD to a 3-year-old patient suffering from malnutrition. Three bottles showed surprising improvement. Children will take COCO COD because it is palatable. I highly recommend it."

County Tournament At Antioch March 12 And 13

ASSOCIATION SETS DATES AT MEETING WITH COACH PRUGH

Postponed Games Will Be Played—All-Star Game Planned

Members of the Greene County Athletic Association definitely fixed Friday and Saturday, March 12 and 13, as the dates for the annual basketball tournament for county high school boys' and girls' teams at Antioch College, at their joint meeting with Coach Earl Prugh, Antioch College, in the office of County Superintendent H. C. Aultman Thursday afternoon.

Since it is considered an impossibility to play all games in the county league by next week the schedule ends, officials have granted an extension until March 12 during which schools may play postponed games. The contests must either be played or forfeited, it is said.

Following are postponed games remaining unplayed: Schedule games between Yellow Springs and O. S. and S. O. Home boys' and girls' teams of January 29 at Yellow Springs; Yellow Springs vs. Caesar Creek boys and girls December 11 at Caesar Creek; Bow-ersville vs. Home boys and girls December 11 at Home; Caesar Creek vs. Beaver Creek boys at Beaver Creek, February 12; Bath at Home February 12.

Officials also set February 26 as the date for the game between Bath and Cedarville, the winner to represent the county in the southwestern Ohio regional tournament in Dayton in March. A neutral court will be selected by the managing committee composed of A. F. Roush, W. W. White, and J. W. Gowdy.

Greene County's entry in the regional tournament will not be eligible to compete in the county invitational tournament because of conflicting dates, it is said.

It was decided at the meeting to follow the example set last year and select all-star county boys' and girls' teams in the league this season.

Coaches and superintendents of the various schools are asked to mail their selections to the executive committee of the association composed of Roush, White and Gowdy, not later than February 24. Plans are tentatively being formed to arrange a meeting between the Greene County all-star team and an all-county team from another county. Proceeds of the game would revert to the athletic fund of the association. The plans on foot would stimulate athletic rivalry between counties in this section, it is believed.

Two protests of league games were presented at the meeting but were later withdrawn with disputed points to be settled later by the teams involved, on the floor.

DAYTON PRIEST TO GIVE SERMONS HERE

The Rev. John Gunzelman, S. M., professor at the University of Dayton will deliver the Wednesday evening Lenten sermons at St. Brigid's Church, according to the Rev. David Powers, pastor.

Services will be at 7:30 o'clock both Wednesday and Friday evenings during Lent, which opened Wednesday with a sermon by the Rev. Father Powers and the distribution of ashes.

CEDARVILLE OR BATH HIGH WILL REPRESENT COUNTY IN TOURNEY

Either Cedarville High School or Bath Twp. High basketball team will represent Greene County in the Class B division in the annual southwestern state regional tournament at the Montgom-

GRADE SCHOOLS TO RESUME CONTESTS ON COURT SATURDAY

Games in the Xenia City Grade Schools Basketball League will be resumed Saturday with contests scheduled for morning, afternoon and night.

McKinley school 6A and 6B teams, losers in the sixth grade eliminations, will meet in the morning at 10 o'clock in a consolation contest.

Spring Hill teams, champions of the fifth and fourth grades in the city, will collide at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Finals of the sixth grade division will be played in the evening at 8 o'clock, with Spring Hill and Orient Hill clashing.

This will be a championship game and an admission of 10 cents will be charged.

Because of conflict with a Central High basketball date, the schedule in the grade schools league was moved up one week, and the finals will be played next week bringing together the winners of the fifth grade-fourth grade game and the champion sixth grade team.

A silver loving cup will be awarded the champion team in the league immediately after the final contest. The cup will be engraved with the name of the quintet winning the title and remain in the possession of that team for one year. It will be contested for annually.

Tanlac builds strong bodies

"Was so troubled with chronic indigestion, nervousness, headaches and loss of sleep I became almost a physical wreck. Tanlac brought a remarkable improvement and soon was back in pink of condition."
Ben Romano, 259 S. Main St., Akron, O.

There's nothing like Tanlac to purify the blood, put the stomach and liver in working order and build up a run-down body.

Millions of men and women have been benefited by this great tonic and builder that is compounded after the famous Tanlac formula from roots, barks and herbs.

If you are nervous, suffer from indigestion, have rheumatism, torpid liver, buy a bottle of Tanlac at your drug store today. See how you start to improve right from the first. Take Tanlac Vegetable Pills for constipation.

ASK PARTITION OF PROPERTY IN SUIT JUST FILED HERE

Partition of property is asked in a suit brought in Common Pleas Court by Harriet and Bertha McCarty against Karleen Arnold, Pauline Barngrover, Clara McCarty Hudson, William W. Miller, Jr., Harriet L. Hazlett, Helen Kloppenberg, James A. Buck, Florence Buck Avery, Howard J. Buck, Clyde W. McCormick, Walter McCormick, John Herbert Brown, Agnes Garrett Williams, Helen Orr Brown, Jean G. Brown and Gertrude Lynde.

John C. Brown died May 24, 1924, and in item 1 of his will bequeathed a life estate in his personal property and real estate to his widow, Harriet R. Brown, who died January 29, 1925, according to the petition.

Plaintiffs claim that in item 2 of the will, $20,000 was bequeathed to Katherine Hazlett and that there is sufficient personality to pay the legacy in full.

Decedent provided in item 3 of the will that after the death of his widow, the residue of the estate should go to his nieces and nephews and her nieces and nephews, according to the petition.

Plaintiffs and defendants are heirs to the property, petition recites. H. L. Smith and H. D. Smith are attorneys for the plaintiffs.

MAN INJURED WHEN TRAMPLED BY HORSE

James Osborn, 35, tenant on the Jesse Hawkins farm, one mile east of Spring Valley, received three broken ribs and his face was badly lacerated when he was knocked down and trampled by a horse, Thursday night near Spring Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Osborn and two children were returning home from Spring Valley between 8 and 9 o'clock in a closed storm buggy. The bridle bit broke and when Mr. Osborn attempted to placate the animal he was knocked down and trampled by the horse.

The horse dragged the buggy, occupied by Mrs. Osborn and the children to the Osborn home a mile away. Occupants of the buggy were not injured. Mr. Osborn was removed to his home and is thought to be in a serious condition.

SAVINGS COMPANY SUES

The Peoples Building and Savings Co. is plaintiff in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court against Cliff Lemons and Grace Lemons for $24,730.74, alleged due on a loan. Foreclosure of mortgaged property is sought. C. W. Whitmer is attorney for the plaintiff.

Fred and Dorothy Robinson, and the American Loan and Realty Co. are named defendants in a suit for $500 filed by the Peoples Building and Savings Co. That amount is due from the first two named defendants on a loan, secured by mortgage, plaintiff avers. The loan and realty concern is asked to set

POSTOFFICE WILL BE CLOSED MONDAY

Monday, Washington's birthday, will be observed as a holiday at the Xenia Postoffice. It is announced by Postmaster C. S. Frazer.

No deliveries will be made by city or rural carriers but morning and evening collections will be made as usual, it is said. The lobby will remain open all day for accommodation of box holders.

FUNERAL HELD

Funeral services for Mrs. Frances Waltheal, 70, who died Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock at her residence in Jamestown, were held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at her home. Interment was made in Jamestown Cemetery.

A New York legislator has offered a bill making hypocrites a crime and labelling as hypocrites "persons who solicit and collect funds for the purpose of promoting measures restraining the exercise of personal liberty."

The three major vices of Gilbert Chesterton, well-known English author are biting his grandmother, infatuation for Russian widows and arguing, he confesses in his latest book.

Complaining that his wife took his cork leg with her when she left him a Bridgeport, Conn., high school teacher is suing for divorce.

A Chicago surgeon, operating on a patient for appendicitis, found the man had no such organ. The patient died.

A Marion, O., surgeon, in a death-bed request, specified that there be no 'humb' in his funeral. He asked to be cremated and his ashes scattered on the graves of his parents. He forbade religious ceremony.

New Plane Promises 18-Hour U. S. to London Service

A company is being organized in New York to operate an 18-hour transatlantic passenger service with planes of a type developed by Dr. Armin De Muth, noted German aero designer. Photo shows how the machine will appear in flight. A model of the De Muth plane passed tests of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The plans for the transoceanic air liners call for 800-h. p. motors, and compartments in the cabin in the 147-foot body for 50 passengers and eight fliers. Dr. De Muth believes he has devised a way to make the craft unsinkable.

MARK SQUIRES

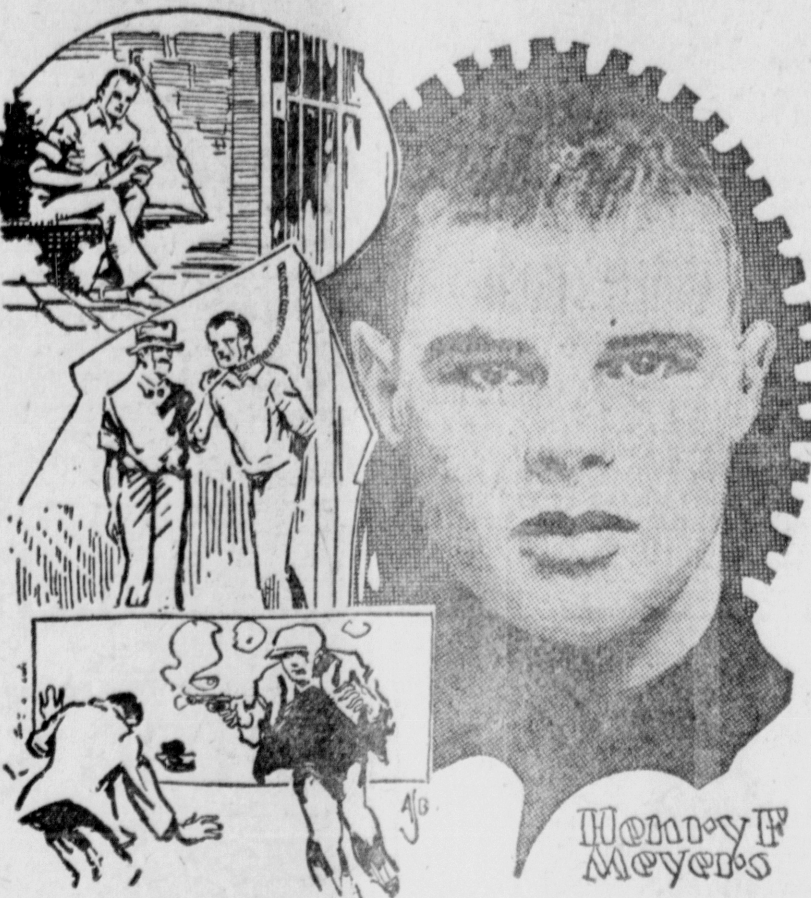

North Carolina and Tennessee are seeking $1,000,000 to purchase the Great Smoky range of mountains and present them to the government as a national park, providing easterners with a great playground similar to the many in the west. Photo shows a section of the range, the location of which is indicated in the map. Also shown advocates of the Great Smoky park, Wm. C. Gregg, national park commissioner and Mark Squires, chairman of the park commission.

Daring Explorer Opens New Wilderness to Whites

George M. Dyott, noted English explorer and author, is back from a perilous trip through Ecuador and Brazil across South America, on which he visited regions never before seen by a white man. At bottom is the great volcano of Sangai, photographed for the first time. At top is one of the swift, deadly streams with which he had to continually battle. As the photo was taken, one of his boats was being smashed. Also shown is one of the savages who inhabit the wilderness opened by Dyott.

Diagnoses Crime Wave as He Waits for Death on Canadian Scaffold

Henry F. Meyers

"Children are taught too much idealism, and not enough realism." This is the diagnosis of the crime wave made by Si Sowash, alias Henry F. Meyers, as he waited death on the scaffold at Vancouver, B. C., on a murder charge. When he walked to the noose, he left behind a remarkable essay on crime and its causes.

Most Beautiful U. S. Twins?

Marie (left) and Marguerite Martel, California girls, whose friends claim for them the title of "America's most beautiful twins," say it's fine to be so much alike, but that they'd rather have distinct personalities. They've just been graduated from a ballet school and plan not to marry till they've won fame as dancers.

Society Beauty Dramatic Discovery

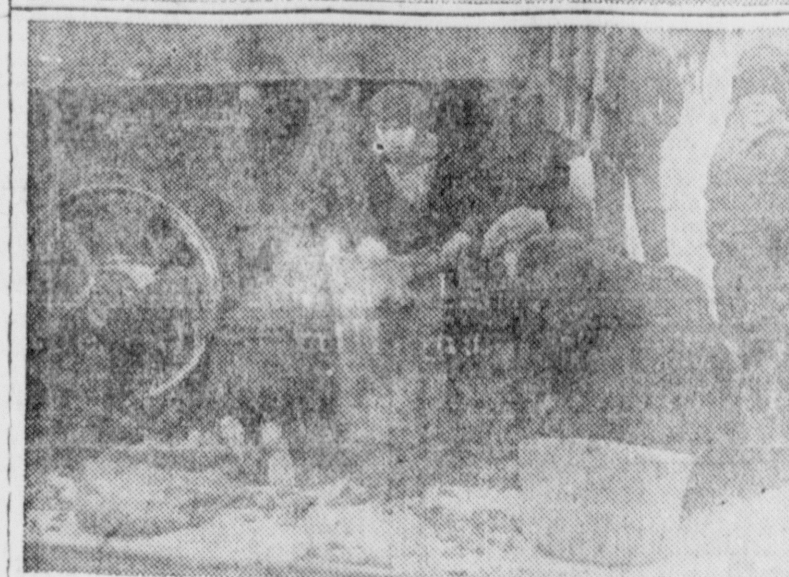

Tired of society, Elinor Patterson, Chicago beauty, sought a career on the stage. Despite her inexperience, she was picked for the important part of the Nun in the Chicago presentation of the spectacle, "The Miracle." Now a great future is predicted for her as an actress.

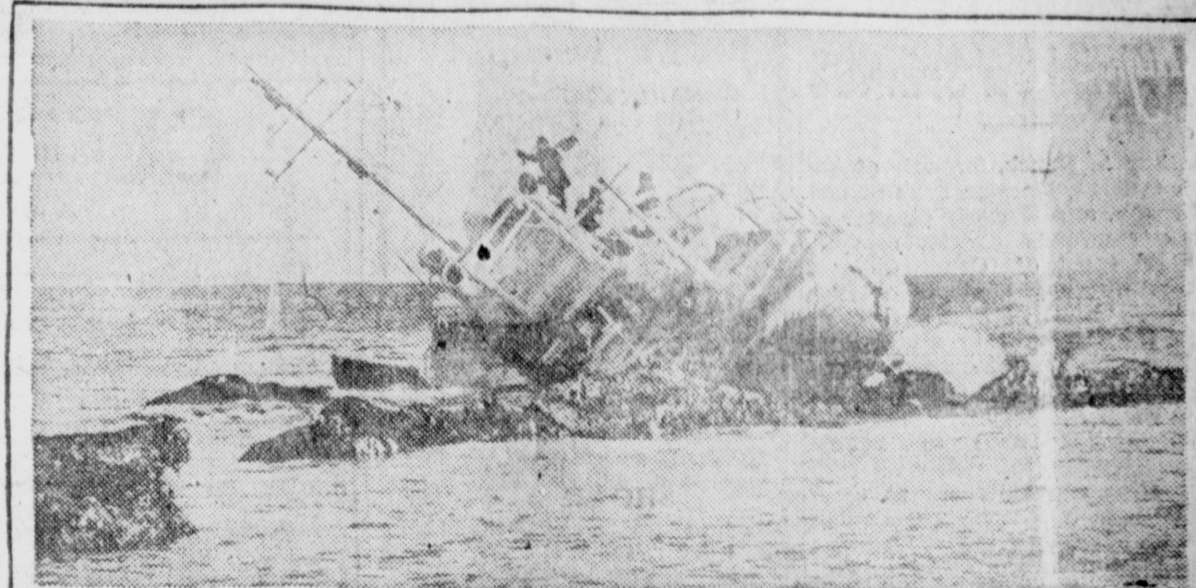

Miners' Tots Happy as War Ends, But Still Suffer

Children in the anthracite mining districts of Pennsylvania are happy again, with the 164-day strike over, as the upper photo shows; but there continues to be distress in many of their homes, with food, fuel and clothing short. On eve of settlement, when two truck loads of coal ventured on streets of Throop, Pa., strikers overturned them and their desperate wives and children gathered in the fuel for home use, as lower photo shows.

Walks Barefoot Mile in Blizzard to Save Six

A tale of heroism that is an epic of the sea is being written as six coast guardsmen from a station on Narragansett Bay, Mass., recover from harrowing experiences from which they were saved, when near death, by the action of one of their comrades, who walked barefooted and scantily clad for a mile in a blizzard to bring them aid. Their craft had been wrecked as they were attempting a rescue. Photos show the smashed boat and men of the coast guard cutter Mojave, who dared death to rescue the six.

Film Stars Answer Query Raised by "Eve's Two Lovers"

Do women want to dominate or be dominated in marriage? Do they want a weak husband or a strong one? Film stars, answering the queries raised by "Eve's Two Lovers," new romance by Edgar Poe Norris, can't agree. Colleen Moore, whose husband is John McCormick, film maker, welcomes "reasonable control." Anna Q. Nilsson, a divorcee, advocates woman as the "governing force." Lewis Stone thinks many women welcome domination. A wife should cater to her husband's wishes, Lloyd Hughes says. "Rule within reason," is a right of every husband, Jack Mulhall contends. Mary Astor is inclined to believe domination doesn't hurt women. Where there's romance domination is excusable, avers Dolores Del Rio, who is very much married. Dick Barthelme thinks the husband ought to have the right to "suggest" things.

SUES RELATIVES TO RECOVER PROPERTY OBTAINED WRONGLY

Alleging his son and daughter-in-law persuaded him to deed certain real estate to his son and daughter by gross and fraudulent misrepresentations and then neglected to abide by their contract, D. H. Middleton has brought suit in Common Pleas Court against John A. Middleton and Elizabeth Middleton to enjoin defendants from disposing of the property and asks that the deed be set aside.

Plaintiff claims he owns a one-half interest in certain real estate and deeded it to John Middleton and his wife while defendant's sister, Lena McDonald, received $3,000 as her share.

Defendants neglected to conform with their agreement and provide him with the comforts of life and care for him in their respective homes, leaving him without support, plaintiff avers.

Marshall and Marshall are attorneys for the plaintiff.

WANTS LIENS SET UP

Darry S. Murphy, administrator of the estate of Fred T. G. Weaver, has brought suit in Common Pleas Court against William Tanner, Elsie M. Tanner, The Peoples Building and Savings Co., and William P. Harkraker.

Plaintiff alleges Fred Weaver obtained two judgments against William and Elsie Tanner in court December 15, 1913, amounting to $678.01 and costs, which are due and unpaid.

The loan company and William P. Harkraker, holding mortgages on the defendant's property, are asked by the plaintiff to set up their liens that the estate may levy on property in payment. Attorney H. D. Smith represents plaintiff.

FORMER PROFESSOR AT ANTIOCH VISITS AT YELLOW SPRINGS

Arthur A. Hauck, formerly of Antioch College, Moraine Park School in Dayton, and formerly director of the conservancy district schools, now president of Oahu College, Honolulu, stopped off in Dayton Thursday night to visit friends en route from Hawaii to the National Educational Association's winter meeting at Washington, D. C., next week.

Mr. Hauck went to Yellow Springs Friday to renew friendships with acquaintances at Antioch College, where he was at one time in charge of the department of education before going to Hawaii. He expects to remain in the states for several weeks.

Mr. Hauck declares Hawaii is "probably the most tolerant place in the world." There has never been a race riot there, he said. Japanese, Chinese, Americans and Hawaiians are enrolled in the same classes at Oahu College, which is of college preparatory grade.

Hawaiian public schools maintain a high standard also and many young people prepare for college in them," the former Antioch teacher said.

Because of conflict with the visit of Mr. Hauck to Dayton Thursday, F. B. Slutz, principal of Moraine Park High school, postponed an engagement to address the Central High School student body and P. T. A. Thursday afternoon on the assembly program.

UNIFORM EXAMS ARE PLANNED AT MEET

Uniform plan of examination of all eighth grade and high school seniors of the county was decided upon at the meeting of county superintendents in offices of County Superintendent H. C. Aultman, Thursday afternoon. All schools were represented but Ross Twp.

Literary meets between several high schools of the county were scheduled. Programs will consist of operettas, plays, music, readings, essays and other activities of literary worth.

Provisions of the Baxter law as related to several districts and their needs were worked out at the meeting.

MEN JURORS SMOKED WOMEN TO VERDICT

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Feb. 19—Smoking as an insidious means of coercing women jurors in voting as the male members desire, has been developed here.

Nine men who desired the acquittal of a woman charged with illegal sale of intoxicating liquors found the three woman jurors found the jury firm for conviction. The majority, then proceeded to make the room unbearable for the minority and a verdict of acquittal was rendered when the women were "smoked out."

Such is the story told by the husband of one of the women jurors involved.

ALLEN SENTENCED TO PENITENTIARY AFTER GUILTY PLEA

Wade Allen, 47, colored, who pleaded guilty to an indictment returned by the grand jury last Monday for receiving stolen goods for implication in the theft of more than fifty chickens from Charles Sheridan, Paintersville Road, January 15, was given an indeterminate sentence of from one to seven years in the Ohio State Penitentiary by Common Pleas Judge R. L. Gowdy Thursday.

Allen was paroled in the custody of the Rev. A. M. Howe, this city, on condition that he reimburse Sheridan for the value of the number of chickens he is alleged to have disposed of. Value was placed at $34.75.

Parole of Allen marked the second application of the new law in Greene County forbidding judges from passing suspended sentences but permitting paroles in care of some responsible person.

Disposition of Allen's case also made the chapter of the chicken stealing episode January 15, which resulted in three arrests.

Wayne Everett, an escaped convict from the London state prison farm, admitted implication in the theft and was returned to London to resume a one to twenty year sentence. Elmer Sharp, 37, arrested with Allen and Everett, was given a one to seven year sentence in the state penitentiary when he pleaded guilty to an indictment for grand larceny.

Chester Healey, alias Harvey Griso, 30, New Carlisle, indicted by the grand jury on two counts of forgery, will be brought before Judge Gowdy for sentence Friday. He has pleaded guilty to both counts.

MANY ATTEND MIAMI TRAFFIC CLUB MEET

Xenia was well represented at the annual dinner-meeting of the Miami Valley Traffic Club at the Gibbons Hotel, Dayton, Thursday night, attended by more than 400 members from twenty-five cities.

Judge Roland W. Baggett, Dayton, was the principal speaker, discussing the subject: "You Can't Legislate Upon Human Nature." Other speakers were T. T. Webster, general traffic manager of the G. H. Mead Co., T. Percy Stabler, president of the club, and H. W. Prior, sales manager of the Deleo-Light Co.

The entire program was broadcast from station WSMK at the Gibbons Hotel through remote control under arrangements with the S. M. K. Radio Corporation.

DROVE DEATH CAR

DAYTON, Ohio, Feb. 13.—Arrest of Robert Graff, 17, 527 Young St., Middletown, Ohio, at his home yesterday afternoon led to his confession that he drove the automobile which struck and killed Thelma Willis 7, R. R. 1, Germantown, on the Middletown Pike near her home Tuesday afternoon.

Embarrassing eruption on face disappears when Resinol is used

Hadley, Mass., May 28.—"For some time I had been troubled with an eruption on my face which nothing I tried seemed to relieve. I had read about Resinol and decided to give it a trial. For a week I bathed my face every night with warm water and Resinol Soap and then applied the Ointment. At the end of that time the eruption had entirely disappeared. I cannot praise the Resinol products too highly." (Signed) Lillian Hull.

"I'm Slender Because I did this"

That is the story many thousands are telling. They have told it for 18 years. It is the story of Marmola Prescription Tablets—the easy, pleasant way to reduce. Today their results are known to millions the world over. They are shown by slender figures in almost every circle. No people are taking 100,000 boxes of these famous tablets monthly.

Marmola acts directly on the cause of excess fat. No abnormal exercise, no starvation diet. We state all the ingredients and explain how they act, so no user can have any question about them.

Excess fat is a blight to beauty, to health and efficiency. Anyone who keeps it does injustice to herself.

Why not investigate this treatment which for 18 years has done so much for you? You see on every side today why not learn how multitudes are keeping slender in a scientific way? You owe that to yourself.

Marmola Prescription Tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. Send this coupon for our latest book, a 25-cent sample box, and our coupon. Clip it now.

The Theatre

Here is a bit of advance information for movie fans, "The Merry Widow," with Mae Murray and John Gilbert, will be the feature attraction at the Bijou Theater, February 25 and 26.

And there is a story connected with it, which, however, must be kept strictly in confidence. Manager Hibbert booked the picture when it was first released in production a year ago. Later on, as its release date approached, the company asked for release from the contract, saying the picture would not be finished. Manager Hibbert released the company whereupon the picture was issued and its booking price boosted sky high. Manager Hibbert didn't give this out for publication but it goes to show the troubles of the booker. Keep it quiet.

Here's the latest news from the camera "firing line": Adolphe Menjou and company are in England to film scenes of Michael Arlen's "The Ace of Cads." Raymond Griffith to make fantastic film, "The Ship That Sails to Mars." Reported that Joseph Schenck and Samuel Goldwyn will pool their interests in making "The Garden of Allah" with Norma Talmadge and Ronald Colman; Leatrice Joy to take lead in "Eve's Leaves"; Adolphe Menjou will play Satan, Carol Dempster and Greta Nissen will be feminine leads in "The Sins of Satan"; Irene Rich recovering from a nervous collapse in New York brought on by personal appearances; Frances X. Bushman signed attempt to hold their husbands are the women who work. I do not mean if a woman can paint a little, but if she can go out and sell that painting, then she is interesting."

Good news for women fans—Richard Dix the adorable, matinee idol of the cinema enthusiasts, is coming to the Bijou Theater Saturday afternoon and night in "Woman-Handled," a Paramount production. The story is the answer to the famous movie "Man-Handled." Luther Reed adapted the yarn for screen purposes from the Saturday Evening Post story by Arthur Stringer, who also wrote "Man-Handled." Esther Ralston plays opposite the lovable Mr. Dix in the current production and the cast also includes Cora Williams, Olive Tell, Ed Nadel, Edmund Breese, Margaret Morris, Ivan Simpson and Edgar Nelson. And now, after saying lots of nice things about Mr. Dix, it is necessary to break the spell. In "Woman-Handled" he does not play a role in which he is irresistible to women. It is not that he is irresistible to women but that he is "womanhandled" by their gentle requests. And there you have it.

MUSICAL COMEDY IS REPEATED TO LARGE AUDIENCE THURSDAY

"The Lady in Blue," Xenia's home-grown musical comedy, was repeated before a capacity audience at City Hall Theater Thursday night.

Performers, with the advantage of one performance behind them, gave a smooth presentation that pleased an audience that packed the theater to the roof. Standing room only signs were hung out both nights.

Joseph P. Foody Post, American Legion, was pleased with the response given the production by the public and the post will benefit largely because the play was written, directed and staged entirely by home talent without the aid of paid direction.

Many theater goers voted it the best amateur stage offering here for many seasons. As a result of the success, the Legion is planning to repeat the performance at the Soldiers' Home, Dayton next week, although arrangements so far are only tentative. Overtures will also be made to the Wilmington Legion with a view to staging the performance in that city also, it is reported.

Yes, sir!
that's
buddy!

TRouble's a bubble, just as the song says. And you can stick it with the stem of your old jimmy-pipe . . . packed to the brim with Prince Albert. Friendly, fragrant Prince Albert. Cool, comfortable Prince Albert. A pal in the pinches . . . a cheer-leader when you're on top.

Pipe-peeves vanish in a P. A. smoke-screen. Problems go up in smoke. Cool and sweet and fragrant, P. A. sifts into your system and pins a big red rose on the workaday world. Tobacco with a real mission in life . . . to make you pipe-happy and keep you that way!

And listen to this: P. A. can't nip your tongue or parch your throat! Because—the Prince Albert process put a padlock on tongue-torture right at the start; gave Bite and Parch the gate in the beginning . . . and they've never been back!

Men who thought they never could smoke a pipe have tried again with Prince Albert . . . and stuck! Go and do you likewise. There's a friendly shop nearby where they hand out P. A. sunshine in tidy red tins. Take the shortest cut. Step lively! Your tobacco troubles will then be over for all time.

PRINCE ALBERT
—no other tobacco is like it!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound in humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.
